Standard Production Procedure and Detailed Manufacturing Process:	This cannabis concentrate Terp Sauce, will be extracted from Diamonds (A proposed Green Fire Extracts product). Once the desired diamond amount and consistency is produced, Green Fire Extracts will perform a final purge. This ensures each concentrated compound receives a specialized purge for a more refined product. Once complete, product will be placed and seal in a UV-proof jar, leaving the concentrate in a warm environment for 3 - 10 days. This causes the terpenes to naturally separate. The final product, Terp Sauce, is then properly packaged and stored until testing and sale.
