Hi Erika,

I just recently called and left you a message but decided to send an e-mail to follow up.

At our Assembly meeting on Tuesday night, we heard from the owner of Danish Gardens about his business being broken into and robbed. The robbery took all of 61 seconds! He was absolutely certain that they had used information from his application to identify what types of locks he had, where his security cameras were located and what his security plan was. You may recall that this issue came up a few times as we were developing Anchorage's codes, rules and regulations for this new industry. I am wondering if the Board plans to take up possible changes to requirements for all this security information to be available for public view? Maybe the info could be seen by the board during licensing hearings and then redacted when the application was made public. I'm hoping that the criminals that robbed Danish Gardens are not preparing to do the same at other MJ businesses here in town. There is very little chance that APD could respond to a break-in in time if the culprits are in and out so quickly. The estimated amount of loss, we were told Tuesday night, was approximately $150,000! Robbing banks is a waste of time compared to this. I'm hoping to avoid a string of these type break-ins.

I brought this item up in conversation last night at the Russian Jack CC meeting with a couple State Legislators. They also sounded concerned but suggested that contacting you or the Board would be the best way to get any possible changes made to the regulations.

Feel free to call me to discuss this. My cell number is 240-1049.

Thanks,

Pete Petersen
