Ingredients:

Standard Production Procedure and Detailed Manufacturing Process:	Dried marijuana flower or trim is ran through a hydrocarbon closed loop extractor, solvent is recovered, and the concentrate solution is transferred to a sealed jar or dish and loaded into either a vacuum oven or pressure vessel, until cannabinoids and terpenes are clearly separated. Terpene extract is then poured off into a separate jar, and purged in the vacuum oven at low vacuum and temperature until all residual solvent has been purged.

Depiction: Provide a photograph, drawing, or graphic representation of the expected appearance of the final product.
