Good Morning Jeremy,

Because there are other tenants in the building where your premises is located, your application must include a distinguishing address (Bay One as listed on your lease). You must have sole possession of the premises address.

Since your application was not initiated with Bay One in the premises address, there are several corrections/amendments that need to be accomplished before it can be deemed complete:

- AMCO staff will edit the premises address to include Bay One
    - This will generate a new public notice and advertisement notice
        - You will need to run a one-time correction ad in the newspaper using the new notice and submit a new publisher's affidavit
        - You will need to post the new public notice for an additional 5 days and submit a new form MJ-07
- Section 1 – Establishment Information, of each form needs to be corrected to include Bay One in the address

How are the storage locker rental units within Bay One (1st & 2nd floors) utilized? Are they available for rent by the general public?

Please let us know if you have any questions.

Thank you,
AMCO Staff

Sorry for the delay, but here are the requested corrections to the lease, entire building layout, and for MJ-01.

To answer the question in the incomplete application letter asking "so , your premises is a storage unit within a storage building correct? Bay 1?". The premises is in bay 1. The premises was multiple prior storage units that were modified and walls added to isolate the premises.

Thank you

Jeremy Erickson
