Subject: Bam Alaska Cultivation Facility License No. 10303

Good Afternoon – I am following up on the status of license no 10303 – my client Mike came into the AMCO office last week and there was some confusion regarding his application and location of the application. He was told someone who was working on the file was out of the office until this week – so we just wanted to make sure you have all the pieces of the application for license number 10303 and confirm the application is under review (we paid the fee on 7.20.2016 see attached email indicating license is under review).

Thanks so much for your good work and clarification on this issue,
