ok. thank you. i changed the disposal method from using an incinerator to landfill. i hope this works for your review. i will be getting three notary signatures today as well for the forms that require them. please look for the items you requested tomorrow morning.

thank you for your quick response this morning.

Good morning Mike,

Apologies for that, I got that language mixed up from an earlier incomplete letter I had sent in the morning. Your license type fields are correct.

Dear Sir/Madam,

I received your email and have corrected all the errors and omissions. I have one question regarding the mismatch in the cover sheet and the submitted documents.

The error is that the licensee and the license type are incorrect. I see that I made the error with the licensee but I cannot see what is wrong with the license type. I believe it should be as submitted, as a limited marijuana cultivation facility.

Can you confirm that the only error is the licensee so I can get this resubmitted via email this evening?

Thank You.
