Hi Michael,

You don't need to redo the mailer and community meeting.

Subject: Limited Marijuana Cultivation notice to residents

Mr. McLaughlin:

I have a question regarding my business (Old School & Buffie, LLC) plans to open a marijuana Limited Cultivation facility at 10263 Nigh Road #5.

On June 27 we mailed letters to all residents and property owners within 500 feet of our warehouse, according to the list provided by the Municipality, inviting them to attend a meeting. We held the meeting with the Bayshore/Klatt community council on July 21 specifically to address our application and have since attended community council meetings. There have been no objections to our proposed operation. We then withdrew our state license application due to technical issues but have recently re-initiated our application. There are no changes to the operation except for the state license number.

My question is this: is it necessary for us to redo the mail out notification to residents/owners to meet the requirements of the MOA Special Land Use Permit?

Your feedback is appreciated - thank you in advance. I can be contacted at 907-331-7658.
