Good afternoon, Aaron,

All of your corrections look good, except the bathrooms on the two diagrams. My apologies for missing this detail in our previous correspondence. Restricted Access Areas must have cameras, and the bathrooms should not have cameras. Can you please make the bathrooms green (areas that are not restricted access areas), and then resubmit the two diagrams?

Please submit these corrections as soon as possible. The deadline for an application to be deemed complete for the May 7th board meeting is April 24th.

Thank you,

Good afternoon,

Attached is the correct publishers affidavit for AlasKind.

Thanks,
Aaron Heath

Good morning,

I have addressed your last corrections, details below:

-Publishers Affidavit

I apologize again for the proofreading oversight on my part, the publishers affidavit i submitted was indeed published for AlasKind, but with the license number of my original company/public notice.

I have submitted the correct notice for publication in the "Fairbanks Daily News Miner", it will run for the next 3 Tuesdays, with the final notice published April 3, 2018. I will send you the affidavit as soon as i receive it.

-MJ-02 and MJ-04

All doors have been labeled with a key at the top in MJ-02. If this key or the descriptions are not sufficient i will be happy to make alterations.

I adjusted the measurements/dimensions for accuracy in MJ-04 and clarified some measurements in MJ-02, I'm sorry the first run was sloppy.

Surveillance/server room has been labeled in MJ-02.

Mechanical, Surveillance/Server & Office have been removed from the licensed premises perimeter in MJ-02. I altered MJ-01 p7 to reflect this, though i feel there may be specific language i am missing.

I was unsure if the main entry was inside the licensed premises. I believe that it is so i did not change it in MJ-02. We will process visitors identification in said entry before going through the actual restricted access door.

Thank you very much for the input,
Aaron Heath
