Until a marijuana establishment surrenders its license to the board, and so long as business is conducted under the license on the licensed premises, the person holding the license, whether an individual, a partnership, a limited liability company, a corporation, or a local government, is responsible and liable for the conduct of the business.

Any individual exercising actual authority over the conduct of business on the licensed premises must be the holder of the marijuana establishment license, or an agent or employee of that person unless the board has approved a transfer of the license to a different person.

Death of licensee

If an individual who is the sole licensee of a marijuana establishment dies, the marijuana establishment shall cease operation. A personal representative appointed by the superior court for the estate of the deceased licensee may submit to the director a written request to reopen the business, along with a copy of the court order appointing the personal representative.

If the licensed marijuana establishment is in good standing, and the personal representative is not a person prohibited from holding a marijuana establishment license under AS 17.38.200(i), the director shall grant permission to the personal representative to operate the business on the licensed premises subject to the below items. In this section, a marijuana establishment is in good standing if the marijuana establishment has a valid current license; has paid all fees due under this chapter and all local taxes due; and has no unresolved suspension or revocation proceedings against it.

A personal representative authorized to operate a marijuana establishment listed above must submit an application for a transfer of ownership to another person in compliance with 3 AAC 306.045 not later than 90 days after obtaining the director's approval to operate.

The board may extend the time allowed in this section for another 90 days if the personal representative requests the additional time.

This section does not authorize the transfer of a marijuana establishment license unless the board approves the personal representative's application for transfer of license to another person

Introduction to Identification

Time Remaining: 3 seconds

It is crucial to learn about the proper forms of identification and how to check their authenticity. The legal age to purchase and possess marijuana is 21 years of age in Alaska.

As a licensee or employee of a marijuana licensed establishment, the responsibility for making sure that your customers are of legal age falls to you.

Is the ID Valid?

Time Remaining: 4 seconds

In order to accept an ID, you must confirm that the ID is an accepted form, is genuine, hasn't been issued to an underage person, and actually belongs to the customer.

Valid IDs should display the following:

- Birth Date: This is used to determine the age of the person.
- Current/Unexpired Expiration Date: If the ID has already expired, it's not valid. Sometimes underage persons try to use an expired ID of a friend or relative.
- Signature: The signature can be useful in identifying the owner.
- Photo: The photo helps to verify that its rightful owner is using the ID.
- Physical Description: Compare features listed on the I.D.: Height and eye color typically will not change.
- Issued by a Government Agency

Distinguishing the ID of a Minor

Time Remaining: 4 seconds

States have adopted various means to assist you in identifying whether or not an ID belongs to a minor. Some of the most common methods are:

Color Designations: Title bars, bands and headers may be highlighted in a bold color such as red. The photo may be given a specific color backdrop, outline or border to indicate that it belongs to a minor. Also, the printed birth date may be highlighted.

Message in the Text: Many states include the actual phrase "under 21" or "under 21 until 2___" on the front of the ID.

Special Layout Features: The photo of a minor may be placed on the opposite side of the ID card. The format of the card may be printed vertically for a minor, rather than the standard horizontal format. Finally, there could also be a ghost photo or faint copy of the photo printed on the card for added security.

Verifying Genuine IDs

Time Remaining: 4 seconds

Becoming completely familiar with the various valid IDs accepted in your state is vital. Recently, states have become more successful in developing IDs that are harder to duplicate or alter. That doesn't mean though that the counterfeiters have given up. They have just had to become more sophisticated in their efforts to produce IDs that look genuine. Spotting these fakes is becoming harder but there are several tools to assist you.

Characteristics of Genuine IDs

Time Remaining: 4 seconds

Proper Text: The ID will display the correct font and word spacing and should never have words on them such as, official, authentic, genuine, valid, etc. To avoid criminal liability, counterfeiters sometimes use the incorrect text or icons.

Proper Images: Some states place holographic images on the IDs. These images are three-dimensional and can change color or shape when viewed from different angles. Other images could include such graphics as the state's name, seal or motto. Additionally, some states place objects on the ID that can only be seen with ultraviolet light. Becoming familiar with these images is the best way to make sure that they are genuine.

License Numbers: Every state issues a license number on the ID. These numbers may be the person's social security number, random numbers, a combination of random numbers and letters, or digits coded to the individual's personal information. What is important to check is that the correct number of digits is in place for that particular ID.

Photos: The photo should be clear and not blurry in any way. A photo that appears blurry may have been altered. A ghost photo, which is a smaller, fainter image of the photo, may also be used as an added security feature.

Back of the ID Card: The back of the ID card may have information such as, driving restrictions, organ donor information, or even bar codes or magnetic strips. It is important to become familiar with the format a particular state uses when identifying the cards. Many times the back of a fake ID will be blank or have wording similar to, "for entertainment only".

Verifying Who the ID Belongs To

Time Remaining: 4 seconds

Many times, minors try to pass off a valid ID of a friend or relative as their own. Therefore, it is extremely important to make good observations when comparing the photo on the ID to the person standing before you.

Compare the general characteristics and make sure that the following match:

- Gender
- Weight
- Eye Color
- Height
- Facial Features

Comparing the length or color of hair or even facial hair on men can be very tricky as these things are changed quite frequently.

Handling Fake IDs

Time Remaining: 4 seconds

At some point in time, you are likely to have someone try to give you a fake ID. A policy should already be in place at your establishment for handling this situation. If one is not, then it is a good idea to discuss this with management so that you know what your options are.

Typically your course of action might be to refuse to allow the individual to enter, refuse to serve them and ask them to leave the premises.

Remember to follow the law in your jurisdiction as well as any policies set by management.

Counterfeit ID's - Where People Get Them

Time Remaining: 4 seconds

Counterfeit ID are more common than you may imagine. Primarily, minors obtain these at the following:

- Friends and/or family
- Internet – many websites offer "Fake ID's" and "Novelty ID's" for purchase.
- Sites also offering templates for print at home fake ID's.
- ID counterfeiters – criminal counterfeiters are able to produce high quality ID's that may be difficult to detect.
