Question, This matter was resolved in a timely matter and in my opinion, was an oversight on my part is it possible that small issues like this and similar issues that are resolved within the time frame allotted by AMCO could be settled with a stern warning, I'm confused because if "we" are truly trying to "HELP" one another and we each do our part in making sure the system runs smoothly why NOV'S on the first notifications for such administrative oversights that are corrected in a timely manner. Just a thought for the future I'm trying to file my renewal papers and everything is affected when NOVs are mentioned I will be sure to list this NOV on my renewal. and yes it was resolved.
