In such event, Landlord shall be entitled to enforce all of Landlord's rights and remedies under this Lease, including the right to payment of the rent and any other charges and Additional Charges as they become due hereunder; or

19.3 Other Remedies

Pursue any other remedy now or hereafter available to Landlord under the laws or judicial decisions of the state in which the Premises are located.

20. PRIORITY

Tenant agrees, only to the extent that the priority would not negatively impact Tenant's business operations, that this Lease shall be subordinate to any mortgages or deeds of trust now or at any time hereafter constituting a lien upon the Premises or the Building containing the same, to any and all advances to be made thereunder, and to the interest thereon, and to all renewals, replacements and extensions thereof; provided that the mortgagees or the beneficiaries named in said mortgages or deeds of trust shall agree to recognize this Lease in the event of foreclosure if Tenant is not in default hereunder and if Tenant attorns to the mortgagee. Within five (5) days after written request from Landlord, Tenant shall execute any documents that may be necessary or desirable to effectuate the subordination of this Lease to any such mortgages or deeds of trust and shall execute estoppel certificates as requested by Landlord from time to time in the standard form of any such mortgagee or beneficiary.

21. CONDEMNATION

If all of the Premises or any portion of the Building or the Property as may be required for the reasonable use of the Premises shall be taken by eminent domain (or by a voluntary conveyance made in lieu of a taking by eminent domain), this Lease shall automatically terminate as of the date Tenant is required to vacate or will be deprived of the reasonable use of the Premises, the Building or the Property, and all rentals shall be paid to that date. of the Premises, the Building or the Property, Tenant may, at it's election, terminate this Lease by notice in writing to Landlord within (10) days after the receipt by Tenant of written notice of the proposed taking, and with any such notice by Tenant to Landlord to be effective on a date which shall be specified by Tenant in the notice but shall be no later than thirty (30) days after the date of the giving of notice. If within said ten (10) day period Tenant does not exercise its right to terminate this Lease because of such partial taking of a part of the Premises this Lease shall continue in full force and effect, and the rental shall be equitably reduced based on the proportion by which the floor area of the Premises or reasonable use of such Building or the property is reduced, such rent reduction to be effective as of the date when possession of such portion is delivered to the condemning authority. Landlord reserves all rights to damages to the Premises for any taking by eminent domain of its reversionary interest, and Tenant hereby assigns to Landlord any right Tenant may have to such damages or award and Tenant shall make no claim against Landlord for damages for termination of the leasehold interest or for interference with Tenant's business. Tenant shall have the right, however, to claim and recover from the condemning authority compensation for any loss to which Tenant may be put for Tenant's moving expenses and for the interruption of or damage to Tenant's business; provided that such damages may be claimed only if they are awarded separately in the eminent domain proceeding and not as part of the damages recoverable by Landlord. Landlord has no knowledge of any such actions or potential for such actions.

Notwithstanding anything herein contained to the contrary, Landlord shall be entitled to alter the Building services or facilities and the location of driveways, sidewalks or other common areas and to extend existing buildings or erect new buildings or extend existing buildings above the Premises or other rentable Premises or common areas of the Building or add new common areas to or on the Building; and upon any alteration of the common areas or upon commencement of construction of any addition or additions to the Building and upon any addition of the new common areas, Landlord and Tenant shall execute such further and other documents as may be required to reflect such alterations of the common areas to exclude areas taken for construction of additional buildings or to include areas added as new common areas, as the case may be.

In the event Landlord is obligated to carry out such conversion, Tenant agrees to reimburse Landlord for its proportionate share of the costs of operating said central heating systems and to utilize the said central heating system in the place and stead of Landlord's existing heating system. Such repairs, alterations, additions or improvements shall be affected at such times and in such manner as to cause as little interruption to Tenant as possible. So long as Landlord shall not interfere with Tenant's business in the Premises more than is reasonably necessary in the conduct of such repairs, changes, improvements and alterations, Tenant shall not have any right to object. All of the alterations, improvements, repairs or additions mentioned in this paragraph made in compliance with and by reason of legislative enactment or decree of governmental authority shall be made without any claim for damages or indemnification against Landlord or diminution or abatement of rent.
