The full context of my previous comments are lengthy, detailed, and contain supporting documentation (I believe that I've submitted over 30 pages). Considering that a hard copy has been submitted in a timely manner to the Board via US mail and has become a matter of public record by being scanned into the AMCO web site, where the entire contents are available to the Board and the public, why would it be necessary to reproduce and resubmit all of this documentation again?

I see that the only new (resulting from the Board's Feb meeting) changes to the proposed Common Carrier Dispensary licensing regs, deals with issues which I have no comment on. I have no further comments on the proposed changes at this time beyond those comments which I've already provided.

Thanks,

Dean

There is a link to the pdf of the draft regulation at the bottom of the page, along with a link to the fiscal note, and a link to the public notice.

Here's a link to the copy of the draft: <https://aws.state.ak.us/OnlinePublicNotices/Notices/Attachment.aspx?id=106946>

In order to be sure your comments are considered by the board, I would suggest re-submitting them through the online notice system or emailing them to amco.regs@alaska.gov.

Hi Jedediah and thanks for getting back with me.

I went to the link that you provided. Is this simply announcing that there's a new comment period? I did not find a link to any new proposals (which you referenced as being made in the February Board meeting) within this notice.

Will my previous comments regarding proposed changes to the Common Carrier Dispensary licensing, which I've provide in response to the previous 2 public notices on this same subject, be considered or do I need to resubmit them?

Regards,

Dean

Mr. Rand,

We received your comments during the last period in which the proposed change was noticed. The board made some changes to the regulation at the February meeting. Unfortunately there were also some problems with the way the regulations change was publically noticed. The proposed regulation change was re-posted here. You are welcome to submit additional comments, or simply re-post your original comments. All comments will be forwarded to the board for consideration at the April meeting. Apologies for the confusion this may have caused. If you have any further questions, please feel free to contact me.
