City of Bethel protests due to public safety concerns.

Public objections received.

Katie Davies, legal counsel for AC Quickstop, provides testimony regarding the renewal application, stating that there have been no violations of state law and requesting that this store be treated the same as all other licenses in Bethel. She states that AC has been a responsible corporate neighbor and provides examples of voluntary actions taken by the licensee to address community concerns (limited operating hours, increased security). She states that she takes legal issue with some of the reasons listed for protest, including the fact that a CUP (conditional use permit) was not required upon initial application, issues with the call logs, and timing issues. She states that the licensee is actively looking to relocate to another area.

Leif Albertson, Bethel City Council, provides testimony regarding the reasons for protests, and he requests that the Board not postpone action on this application. He adds that the people of Bethel have had a difficult time speaking to the Board about their opinions. He states that this protest was specifically about AC, and not about alcohol sales in general.

Sara Erickson asks if there is any liquor license at this point that the City would approve of. Leif Albertson states that there are two others on this agenda that the City did not protest.

Sara Erickson states that it seems like the licensee is making tons of concessions. Leif Albertson states that right now, this is the only licensee that sells hard alcohol.

Katie Davies states that she cannot challenge that there's an issue in Bethel with drinking, but that the City Council does not see all of the efforts that AC has made.

Patty Burley, Bethel City Attorney, provides testimony regarding the history of local option and alcohol sales in Bethel. She adds that the City has done their process and that the City hasn't protested other license applications for a reason. She states that the problem is with the current location of the establishment.

Harriet Milks reminds the Board and the public that the Board needs to ascertain whether the operation of the license in general is in the public's interest.

Sara Erickson moves to table until the Board can have a special meeting just for Bethel issues. Rex Leath seconds the motion. Motion carries unanimously.
