INTRODUCTION

Thank you for your interest in borough annexation. If people are interested in pursuing borough annexation, this packet provides the necessary information to get started. It is intended for people interested in learning about borough annexation, whether they seek to submit a petition, oppose an annexation, or seek more information.

This packet is organized into several modules:

- Boroughs in Alaska
- Local Boundary Commission
- Borough Annexation
- Planning and Preparing a Petition
- Standards and Procedures for Petition

This packet describes boroughs and the borough annexation process, and the relevant agencies involved. It explains steps to take and items to consider. The packet discusses the transition plan, an important part of the petition that petitioners often neglect to examine thoroughly. Finally, it includes appendices with borough annexation standards and procedural regulations, and a borough annexation petition form.

Boundary changes are decided on the state level by the Local Boundary Commission (LBC or commission). Usually either a group of registered voters or a municipality (a borough or city) submits a local boundary change petition to the LBC. Borough annexation can take a year or more from when the petition is accepted until the commission issues a decision approving or denying the petition. This allow time for people to submit public comments, and for the Department of Commerce, Community, and Economic Development (department) to write a publicly available preliminary report and final report with recommendations to the commission. That time does not include the time needed to prepare and draft a petition, and for LBC staff to perform a technical review to ensure that the petition has all of the required information.

Interested persons should consult LBC staff before drafting a petition to save time and effort. The staff is available to answer questions and give information to both proponents and opponents of borough annexation. The staff is part of the Division of Community and Regional Affairs (DCRA) within the department. Please contact the staff with questions:

Alaska has just two kinds of municipal government – cities and boroughs. Both are political subdivisions of the State of Alaska. A unified municipality is a home rule organized borough. While cities are community based municipalities, organized boroughs are regional municipalities. There are two kinds of boroughs: home rule and general law.

Home rule boroughs derive their powers from a charter that gives them any power not otherwise prohibited by law. Home rule boroughs are either unified or non-unified. In unified home rule, the borough and any cities within it have unified into the borough government. Unified home rule boroughs contain no cities unless the people of the borough change their charter to allow that. Non-unified home rule boroughs, however, may have cities within them.

General law boroughs have only the powers given to them by the state. There are two kinds of general law boroughs: first class and second class. A first class borough may exercise any power not prohibited by law on a nonareawide basis (in the area of the borough outside cities) by adopting an ordinance. In contrast, a second class borough must gain voter approval to exercise many nonareawide powers.

BOROUGH POWERS AND DUTIES

Local governments in Alaska enjoy broad powers. Article 10, the local government article of Alaska’s constitution, establishes the framework for municipal government. Section 1 of Article 10 states that local government powers shall be liberally construed.

The way in which a particular borough exercises a specific power depends on:

- the class of borough (i.e., unified home rule, non-unified home rule, first class, or second class); and
- the part of the borough the power will be exercised in.

Organized boroughs may provide services in four areas. These are:

1. areawide (the entire borough);
2. nonareawide (the borough area outside of its cities);
3. through service areas (a part of the borough that provides special services, or a different level of services, than those that the borough provides on an areawide or nonareawide basis). Boroughs establish service areas by ordinance and may establish multiple service areas. Service areas are not local governments; they are part of the borough. A service area may include the territory within a city if the city council agrees by ordinance or if city voters grant authority; and
4. extraterritorial (outside of the borough boundaries).

Boroughs are required to provide three services: education, taxation, and planning. Although home rule and first class cities in the unorganized borough must provide education, they may not operate their own school system once they become part of an organized borough.

Alaska law does not mandate boroughs to provide any other particular service or facility, although each type of borough government has broad authority to exercise powers. These powers include:

- police;
- fire protection;

• emergency medical services;
• road maintenance;
• transportation facilities such as airports, docks, and harbors;
• landfills;
• economic development;
• libraries;
• health services;
• parks and recreation; and
• utilities such as water, sewer, garbage collection; and animal control.

Every borough also has certain general obligations, including submitting annual audits or financial reports, conducting regular elections, codifying ordinances, holding regular meetings of the borough assembly, etc. The chart on pages 6–7 further explains borough powers and duties, and the differences between classes of boroughs.

CONSTITUTIONAL ORIGIN OF THE LOCAL BOUNDARY COMMISSION

In drafting the Alaska constitution, the constitutional convention delegates operated under the principle that unless a grave need existed, the constitution should not specify any agency, department, commission, or other body. The framers recognized that a “grave need” existed to establish and alter municipal boundaries on a state level. To meet that need, the delegates created the Local Boundary Commission (LBC or commission).

Article 10, Section 12 of Alaska’s constitution established the LBC to consider “any proposed local government boundary change.” The minutes of the Local Government Committee of the Constitutional Convention show that the framers believed that local political decisions do not usually create proper boundaries and that boundaries should be established at the state level. Establishing the commission allowed arguments for and against boundary changes to be analyzed objectively at the state level. Alaska’s courts have upholded that the commission has broad powers to create and alter municipal boundaries.

LOCAL BOUNDARY COMMISSION MEMBERSHIP

The LBC is an independent commission comprised of five members appointed by the governor. One member is appointed from each of Alaska’s four judicial districts; the LBC chair is appointed from the state at-large. Commission members serve five-year overlapping terms per AS 44.33.810. The governor has the power to appoint and remove commission members per AS 39.05.060(d). Alaska law provides that the commissioners be appointed “on the basis of interest in public affairs, good judgment, knowledge and ability in the field of action of the department for which appointed, and with a view to providing diversity of interest and points of view in the membership” per AS 39.05.060.

Biographical summaries of the current members are on the LBC website. LBC members are volunteers who receive no pay for their service.

LBC DUTIES AND FUNCTIONS

The LBC acts on petitions for several different municipal (cities and boroughs) boundary changes, incorporations, and reclassifications. These are:

- incorporating municipalities;

- annexing to municipalities;
- merging municipalities;
- consolidating municipalities;
- dissolving municipalities;
- detaching from municipalities;
- deunifying municipalities; and
- reclassifying cities.

COMMUNICATING WITH THE LBC

Commission proceedings regarding a municipal boundary change petition must be conducted in a manner that upholds the right of everyone to due process and equal protection. That right is upheld if communications with the LBC concerning petitions are conducted openly and publicly. For that reason private conservations with the commissioners about petitions are not permitted. The LBC adopted 3 AAC 110.500(b) to prohibit private (ex parte) contact between the commission and any individual other than its staff, except during a public meeting called to address a petition. Examples of ex parte communications include a person speaking privately with a commissioner about a petition, or sending a letter to the commission but not giving the petitioner or a respondent a copy. A respondent is a person or group that has filed a brief supporting or opposing the petition.

The limitation on communicating with LBC members takes effect upon filing a petition and remains in place through the last date available for the LBC to reconsider a decision. If a commission decision is appealed to the superior court, the limitation on ex parte contact is extended through the last date of any court ordered LBC proceedings. All communications with the commission must be submitted through the LBC staff.

LBC STAFF ROLE

Article 10, Section 14 of Alaska’s constitution calls for establishing an executive branch agency to advise and assist local governments. The department serves as that agency. The department serves as staff to the LBC per AS 44.33.020(a)(4). Within the department, the Division of Community and Regional Affairs (DCRA) performs the local government agency’s functions, including providing staff, research, and assistance to the LBC. This document uses the terms “department” and “staff” interchangeably.

Besides providing support to the commission, staff provides information, technical assistance,

3 AAC stands for Alaska Administrative Code, which are the regulations for the State of Alaska.

4 AS 44.33.020(a)(1) provides that Commerce “shall (1) advise and assist local governments.”
and petition forms to petitioners, respondents, and interested persons who have procedural questions. Assistance the staff provides includes:

- answering public, legislative, and other governmental inquiries relating to municipal government issues;
- writing reports on petitions with recommendations for the LBC;
- drafting commission decisions;
- traveling to communities to conduct public meetings and answer questions about proposed local boundary changes;
- developing and updating municipal incorporation or boundary change forms;
- sending local boundary change forms and materials to interested persons;
- providing a link between the LBC and the public;
- maintaining Alaska municipal incorporation and other boundary change records;
- coordinating, scheduling, and attending LBC public meetings and hearings;
- developing orientation materials and providing training for commission members; and
- maintaining and preserving LBC records in accordance with Alaska’s public records laws.

There are two full-time staff assigned to work on LBC matters. They are based in Anchorage.
"Borough annexation" means adding area to an existing organized borough. Annexation extends borough services, regulation, voting privileges, and taxing authority to the annexed area. It allows boroughs or the areas near them to adapt to changing needs and conditions.

Article 10, Section 1 of Alaska's constitution calls for maximum local self-government with a minimum of local government units. It prevents duplication of tax-levying jurisdictions. Annexation is a way of fulfilling the purposes of Article 10, Section 1.

Borough annexation requires a significant commitment of time and other resources. Before making a decision to begin work on annexation, a prospective petitioner should give a lot of thought and time to researching and planning the process, including the need for annexation and the method to use.

WHO CAN PETITION TO ANNEX

Usually a borough annexation petition is submitted by a borough that seeks to annex. A city in the borough can also be the petitioner. Although the legislature can create boroughs, it has not done so since 1963 when it incorporated eight boroughs through the Mandatory Borough Act. Per 3 AAC 110.410, entities which may petition are:

- at least 10 percent of the resident registered voters of the area proposed for annexation;
- at least 10 percent of the resident registered voters of a city, borough, or regional educational attendance area;
- a city or borough;
- regional education attendance areas (REAAs);
- the legislature;
- the department’s commissioner; and
- a person designated by the LBC.

Associations, tribal organizations, or corporations may not be petitioners.

THE PROS AND CONS OF BOROUGH ANNEXATION

The advantages and disadvantages of borough annexation will vary depending on the circumstances. Generally, people supporting annexation stress that a borough would bring certain advantages to the area proposed for annexation. It

- allows local residents, not the state, to make decisions about local matters; allows the area to be part of an entity that represents and serves the region;
create an ability to locally control planning and platting in those areas that could adversely affect local residents; enable area residents living outside of cities to buy federal flood insurance; and allow area residents to supplement state funding for their schools. REAAs cannot collect and appropriate revenues to supplement state funding for their schools.

Generally, people opposing annexation stress that borough annexation would:

- be an additional layer of government and taxation;
- reduce community autonomy when communities are brought together;
- cause smaller communities to be dominated by a larger community or city in the borough, or by the borough itself; and
- result in the borough assuming state functions (e.g. regulation of hunting and fishing, even though boroughs may not lawfully assume such state functions).

It is important to explore the pros and cons of annexation carefully before beginning any work. These pros and cons are discussed more thoroughly in the next module, Planning and Preparing a Petition.

BOROUGH ANNEXATION PETITION STANDARDS
The standards are in Article 10, Section 3 of Alaska’s constitution, AS 29.06.040, and 3 AAC 110.160 – 3 AAC 110.210. The standards are listed in the Planning and Preparing a Petition module on page 22, and in the appendices. Carefully review these standards when deciding whether to annex. A petition should state how and why the petition meets those criteria. The department will base its recommendation to the LBC on whether the petition meets these standards. The LBC will decide whether the petition meets the standards.

BOROUGH ANNEXATION METHODS
There are two borough annexation petition methods: legislative review and local option. While the petitioner can choose which method it wants, the LBC may change the method.

LEGISLATIVE REVIEW
The constitutional framers established the legislative review method in Article 10, Section 12 of Alaska’s constitution. The legislative review method does not require voter approval. Instead, if the commission approves the petition, it sends its decision to the legislature during the first 10 days of a regular session (in late January). The legislature then has 45 days to disapprove the LBC’s decision by a resolution concurred in by a majority of the senate and a majority of the house of representatives. If the legislature does not pass such a resolution, then the LBC's decision stands, and the boundary change takes effect

LOCAL OPTION

The other method is known as local option (also known as local action). AS 29.06.040 authorizes the local option method. If the LBC approves a local option by election petition, then two elections are held:

- one in the area proposed for annexation; and
- one in the borough to which the area would be annexed.

A majority of voters in the area must approve annexation, and a majority of voters in the borough must also approve annexation, not just a total majority of voters.

AS 29.06.040(c) allows two other local option methods that do not involve elections. 3 AAC 110.590 allows expedited procedures if either of these two methods are used. These two local option methods apply only when:

- the municipality owns adjacent land that it wishes to annex; and
- all the property owners and all the registered voters in the area petition the borough to annex the area (unanimous consent). The borough assembly must adopt an ordinance and then petition the LBC.

The more property owners and voters the area proposed for annexation has, the harder it is to achieve unanimous consent. If unanimous consent cannot be achieved, then the petitioner should use either the legislative review or local option by election methods. One situation in which the petitioner might want to use the legislative review method is if there is a compelling public need for annexation but it appears that most voters in the area would cast ballots opposing annexation.

SPEED OF DECISION

Whether legislative review or local option by election is faster depends on when the commission issues its decision. If the LBC issues its decision late in the year, it could send its decision to the legislature before the deadline of the tenth day of the regular legislative session (in late January). The annexation would take effect 45 days later in early or mid-March (assuming that the legislature does not disapprove the LBC's decision). If the LBC issues its decision after the first 10 days of the regular legislative session, then nothing can occur until the legislature convenes in a regular session the following January. For local option by election, if 5 While often it is the borough that seeks to annex, voters of an area could also seek to be annexed to a borough.

the commission approves the petition, then the borough will conduct concurrent elections within the area proposed for annexation and within the borough. If approved by the voters, the annexation would take effect once the election is certified.

AN UNSUCCESSFUL PETITION CANNOT BE REFILED
The department will not accept a petition for filing that:

- is substantially similar to a petition that the LBC denied during the preceding three years;
- is substantially similar to a petition that the legislature disapproved or the voters rejected during the preceding two years; or
- requests reversing an LBC decision that became effective in the preceding two years.

The department can accept any of these petitions if the LBC is shown significantly changed conditions.

WHAT BOUNDARIES ARE APPROPRIATE FOR THE BOROUGH
Boroughs are regional municipalities. The boundaries must generally follow natural geography, be on a regional scale, and include the land and water necessary to provide municipal services effectively. In most cases, the area to be annexed must adjoin the annexing borough.

The LBC has established model borough boundaries that suggest appropriate boundaries if a borough seeks to annex. Descriptions and maps of the model borough boundaries are available on the commission’s website.

THE DEPARTMENT PROVIDES TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE TO CITIZENS WHO SEEK ANNEXATION
The LBC staff provides certain assistance to prospective petitioners. Assistance includes providing petition forms, discussing regarding policy issues, guidance on technical matters, and direction on information sources needed to complete a petition. While the state can answer questions, the petitioner bears the responsibility of preparing a petition.

THE DEPARTMENT ASSISTS PEOPLE OPPOSING ANNEXATION AS WELL
The LBC staff also provides assistance to any individual or organization that wishes to oppose an annexation petition. Assistance to opponents might include:
• providing information about submitting comments and responsive briefs;⁶
• providing opposing responsive briefs from prior petitions;
• discussing policy issues;
• guidance regarding technical matters; and
• identifying information sources needed to complete a responsive brief.

A PETITION CAN BE AMENDED AFTER IT IS FILED
The petitioner may amend the petition. The commission may also amend or impose conditions on a petition following a public hearing. Ideally, amendments can be avoided with careful planning and proper consultation before filing a petition. Amending a petition can delay the petition process.

HOW LONG IT TAKES TO ANNEX
It typically takes several months (in some cases a year or more depending on the local effort, and whether or not there is a charter) to prepare a petition. When preparing a petition, a petitioner is encouraged to ask the staff questions. The petitioner files the petition with the department once a petition is completed and the necessary signatures have been gathered. Once the petitioner has filed the petition, the process typically takes about one year.

WHETHER A LARGE COMMUNITY CAN DOMINATE THE BOROUGH GOVERNMENT
Many people oppose borough annexation because they fear that their smaller communities will be dominated by larger communities in the borough. They want each community to have its own borough assembly seat. Assembly seats can be by district, at large, or a combination of the two. The U.S. Constitution requires that voting districts have roughly equal populations. Each assembly district must have roughly the same population unless the borough uses residency districts.

If the borough uses residency districts, the assembly candidate must live in a particular election district, but is elected at large by the voters of the entire borough. This method meets the equal representation standards because all the borough voters can vote for that candidate. Each assembly member represents the entire borough, not just his or her district. This method is likelier to ensure that more communities will be represented on the assembly. No districting plan may impermissibly lessen the voting strength of a protected minority. Residency districts can be legally challenged if they impermissibly lessen the voting strength of a protected minority.

⁶ Submitting a responsive brief allows any interested party to be identified as a "respondent" in the annexation proceeding. Being a respondent results in a higher level of notice about action on the proposed annexation and provides certain procedural rights (e.g. to speak at length and to present witnesses) at the LBC's public hearing.
Proper planning and preparation are critical to the success of any annexation petition. This is particularly true if the petition is complex or likely to be controversial.

PLANNING STAGE

Borough annexation is a large step that involves a lot of time, commitment, and planning. There are many factors to think about when considering the feasibility and desirability of borough annexation. Prospective petitioners should determine goals for the region and examine the pros and cons of borough annexation. Consider:

- what services the borough would provide to the area proposed for annexation;
- the revenue base of the post-annexation borough;
- the sustainability of that revenue base; and
- the support for borough annexation.

DEFINE OBJECTIVES

The first step in the planning stage is to define the objectives for borough annexation. 3 AAC 110.420 requires a petitioner to state the reasons for annexation. The following are common examples of borough annexation objectives:

- to provide needed services;
- to promote orderly growth and development;
- to promote greater local responsibilities;
- to provide more accountability; and
- to increase the borough’s tax base.

DETAILS TO CONSIDER

THE TYPE OF BOROUGH

When annexing, existing boroughs can change their classification to better fit their enlarged area. Boroughs may be either home rule or general law. Alaska has four types of organized borough governments: unified home rule, home rule, first class, and second class.

Home rule boroughs have the ability to exercise more power than general law boroughs. Their charters give them the authority to exercise any power that does not contravene federal or state law, or instead to limit their powers if they choose. They can either be unified, which means that incorporated cities may not exist within the borough, or non-unified, which means that cities may exist within the borough. See “Boroughs in Alaska” for more information.

General law boroughs do not have charters. They have only the powers permitted by state law. General law boroughs can either be first class or second class. They may have cities within them.

WHAT SERVICES THE BOROUGH WOULD PROVIDE
Beyond the mandatory functions of education, planning, and taxation, what services would the post-annexation borough provide? The potential sources of revenue is a major consideration. How much revenue is there to pay for any additional services? Would the borough provide the services areawide (throughout the entire borough) or nonareawide (outside cities)? Are service areas contemplated?

BOUNDARIES
In considering the best boundaries for the post-annexation borough, consider:

- whether the boundaries follow an existing REAA boundary;
- whether the boundaries reflect ethnicity and cultures;
- whether the borough boundaries would include potential revenue sources (e.g. fishing, mines, property taxes, etc.); and
- whether the borough would be as large an area as possible while still embracing common interests.

Boroughs are regional governments that may include entire geographic regions and unpopulated areas. There is no limit on the size of the area that a borough may annex. Boroughs often encompass multiple communities, but are not required to.

After annexation the borough boundaries must conform to natural geography, environmental factors, regional transportation and communication patterns, and ethnicity and culture per 3 AAC 110.160 through 3 AAC 110.210. The LBC has adopted model borough boundaries that serve as a general guide for existing and potential borough boundaries.

FINANCIAL VIABILITY
Does the post-annexation borough have enough people and revenue to provide services efficiently and effectively?

POPULATION
Is the post-annexation population of the borough large and stable enough to support the expanded borough?
TRANSITION PLAN
What is the plan to transition from whatever entity currently provides services in the area to the borough assuming that role? Who does the prospective petitioner need to consult to develop a transition plan? How long would the transition take? Would it be accomplished in under the required two year period after annexation?

CONSIDER THE PROS AND CONS OF ANNEXING TO A BOROUGH
In deciding whether to file a borough annexation petition it is best to consider the advantages and disadvantages. What one person might see as an advantage, another may see as a disadvantage. While the pros and cons were previously mentioned, here is a more extensive list of advantages and disadvantages:

COMMONLY CITED ADVANTAGES OF BOROUGHS
Boroughs can provide many advantages to their residents. Those advantages can include:

1. Allowing local residents, not the state, to make decisions about local matters. It is difficult for a state agency to be as knowledgeable and responsive to local issues as a borough can be.

2. An entity to represent and serve the region. It is extremely difficult for smaller cities to maintain a stable and capable administrative capacity. Regional governments offer the economies of scale to retain qualified administrative talent and efficiently provide for local services. Further, a borough provides the means for communities within a region to collaborate, and to have a strong, unified voice in matters of regional importance such as fisheries management and natural resources development.

3. Providing local services. In an era of declining and uncertain state and federal spending, boroughs with adequate revenue will be able to pay for and provide services without having to depend on the state or federal governments. Beyond the mandatory powers of education, land use regulation, and assessment and collection of taxes, boroughs can provide the level of services that the region wants and can afford.

4. Boroughs can supplement state education funding. Boroughs can supplement the available state education funding through their own revenues. REAAs do not have that ability because they have no authority to raise revenue.

5. Capacity to Pay for Services. Boroughs can provide services and pay for them because they have the power to raise revenue from user fees, sales taxes, and property taxes to pay for general government operations, utilities, local improvements, and road.
maintenance. Areas in the unorganized borough outside of cities do not have that power or ability.

6. Ability to locally control planning and platting. In the absence of local control, the state has the authority to make planning decisions. A borough will make its own planning decisions. Land use decisions are best made at the local level. Residents may desire regulations to control certain activities in the area, or might want facilities to support local development. Examples of planning and zoning regulations may include control of fireworks, animal control, subdivision review, and management of land use conflicts. Facilities may include floats, grids, docks, ramps, and other community infrastructure that a borough can build, operate and maintain.

7. An accountable government because borough voters elect local officials. The voters of the borough would elect officials who would be accountable to them. The borough assembly must follow strict procedures and follow the Open Meetings Act. Borough officials must follow conflict of interest laws. Boroughs must give public notice before holding meetings, have a code of ordinances, and follow election laws.

8. Borough residents are eligible for flood insurance. Participating in the National Flood Insurance Program requires passing a municipal ordinance to meet applicable Federal Emergency Management Agency rules. Residents and businesses in flood prone areas of the unorganized borough outside of cities are ineligible for federal flood insurance.

9. Boroughs can institute regional alcohol control. Currently alcohol can be sold outside the relatively small boundaries established for alcohol control by cities and villages in the unorganized borough.

10. Boroughs can provide law enforcement if they desire.

COMMONLY CITED DISADVANTAGES OF BOROUGHS

1. Unorganized borough residents can perceive boroughs as a new layer of government and taxation.

2. Perceived loss of autonomy when communities are brought together under a regional structure.

   The impact of reduced local control and autonomy can be lessened if the borough:

   • allows advisory school boards in each community;
   • allows communities that do not have an assembly member to have a nonvoting representative at assembly meetings; and

   Borough Annexation in Alaska-20
• rotates the location of assembly meetings.

3. Fear in smaller communities of being dominated by a larger community or city.

4. Fear of boroughs assuming state functions (e.g. regulation of hunting). Boroughs, however, cannot regulate state functions such as fish and game management.

5. Being part of a borough can reduce certain revenues to cities such as state shared fisheries taxes. Borough annexation also renders unincorporated communities ineligible for Community Assistance Program payments. The impact of any reduced revenues can be lessened, however, if the borough pays the cities or unincorporated communities an amount equal to the amount of revenue lost.

6. Perception that annexation is just a “money grab” by the borough. Opponents to borough annexation may characterize it as being driven by greed and, thus, being inherently objectionable.

7. Perception that the borough lacks adequate resources to extend its services within the expanded boundaries. The borough to which annexation is being sought may be seen as deficient in its delivery of services to areas already within the borough. Critics may assert that annexation will only exacerbate the borough’s alleged deficiencies. Critics sometimes express the unrealistic expectation that the borough will be obligated to extend utilities, sidewalks, paved streets, and other amenities to the area proposed for annexation.

8. Perception that the area proposed for annexation will gain few if any services, especially commensurate with taxation.

ENCOURAGE PUBLIC PARTICIPATION IN PLANNING FOR ANNEXATION

The petitioner should encourage those who live, work, and/or own property in the area proposed for annexation to participate in planning. In deciding whether to proceed with an annexation petition, hold public meetings and work sessions to gather public input. The input is a way to strengthen the petition and hear counterarguments. It can also be a way to determine the level of interest in such a petition. The petitioner should consult any agencies and organizations currently providing local services to the area (e.g., state agencies, tribal organizations, and REAAs).

DRAFTING A PETITION

Once the petitioner has finished the planning stage, it should turn its attention to drafting the petition. The petitioner should contact LBC staff to ask for a petition form. There are many varieties of petition forms depending on the kind of boundary change and the method used.

The petitioner should then fill out the form. This can take a while. Do not hesitate to ask a local government specialist questions about day-to-day borough operations, or to ask LBC staff about the petition standards and other required information. DCRA staff, including LBC staff, cannot help a petitioner fill out the form.

BOROUGH ANNEXATION STANDARDS

- Each borough shall embrace an area and population with common interests to the maximum degree possible. Alaska’s constitution, Article 10, Section 3 intends that each borough be the largest region that can be defined by common interests.
- The social, economic, and cultural activities of the residents of the area proposed for annexation are integrated and interrelated with those of the borough residents per 3 AAC 110.160(a).
- The communications media and transportation facilities in the borough’s proposed boundaries allow the communication and exchange necessary to develop an integrated borough government per 3 AAC 110.160(b).
- The population is large and stable enough to support borough government per AS 3 AAC 110.170.
- The area’s economy includes the human and financial resources necessary to provide municipal services per 3 AAC 110.180.
- The boundaries must conform generally to natural geography, and include all areas necessary to fully develop municipal services per 3 AAC 110.190(a).
- Absent a specific and persuasive showing to the contrary, the area proposed for annexation must be contiguous and must not create enclaves per 3 AAC 110.190(b).
- Borough boundaries may not overlap per 3 AAC 110.190(e).
- Borough boundaries may not include only part of a city per 3 AAC 110.190(f).
- The proposed annexation must be in the best interests of the state per AS 29.06.040(a) and 3 AAC 110.195.
- If the annexation petition is by legislative review, the petition must meet at least one of the nine requirements of 3 AAC 110.200.
- The petitioner must prepare a proper transition plan per 3 AAC 110.900.
- The proposed annexation may not deny any person the enjoyment of any civil or political right per 3 AAC 110.910.
- The proposed annexation must promote maximum local self-government per 3 AAC 110.981.
The proposed annexation must promote a minimum number of local government units per 3 AAC 110.982.

CONSIDER HOW ANNEXATION WOULD BE IMPLEMENTED, AND DEVELOP A TRANSITION PLAN

3 AAC 110.900 requires that every annexation petition include a transition plan explaining how the proposed annexation will be implemented. The plan must demonstrate:

- the borough’s intent and capability to provide essential municipal services in the area proposed for annexation in the shortest practicable time following annexation (not to exceed two years);
- the manner in which the borough will assume all relevant and appropriate powers, duties, rights, and functions presently exercised within the area proposed for annexation;
- the manner in which the borough will assume and integrate all relevant and appropriate assets and liabilities of entities providing those services to the area, without losing asset value, losing credit reputation, or incurring a reduced bond rating for liabilities; and
- that it was prepared in consultation with entities currently responsible for or otherwise providing the area services that will be assumed by the borough.

The transition plan should specifically address:

- what specific powers, duties, rights, services, ordinances, and functions the borough will assume in and extend to the area proposed for annexation;
- the schedule for the borough to assume and extend those powers, duties, rights, services, ordinances, and functions;
- the reasonably anticipated costs for the borough to assume and extend those powers, duties, rights, services, ordinances, and functions;
- the assets and liabilities the borough would assume from agencies and organizations currently providing services to the area proposed for annexation;
- the reasonably anticipated revenues of the expanded borough;
- any financial impacts annexation would have on other governments;
- the effect that annexation will have on powers or services currently provided or exercised by others in the area; and
- how annexation will affect the nature of any service area (e.g. abolishing the service area or detaching a portion of the service area).
SUBMIT DRAFT PETITIONS TO THE DEPARTMENT

The department advises petitioners to submit petitions in draft form. This provides the petitioner an opportunity to identify and correct potential technical deficiencies relating to petition form and content, before the petition is circulated for voter signatures or formally adopted by a municipality. This informal technical review is an optional step that the staff offers as a service to the petitioner. If the department finds that the petition needs to be corrected or completed, it returns the petition to the petitioner to correct or complete.

Once the petitioner has corrected or completed the petition per the informal technical review and gathered the necessary signatures, it can send staff the petition for the technical review. This is covered in the next module, “Standards and Procedures for Petitions.”

THE PETITIONER MUST HOLD A PUBLIC HEARING BEFORE FILING A LEGISLATIVE REVIEW PETITION

3 AAC 110.425 requires the petitioner to hold a public hearing before filing a legislative review annexation petition with the LBC. The public hearing is an effective and appropriate means to get public input and help develop the petition. Local option annexations do not require this hearing presumably because local option annexations require the consent of the area to be annexed.

Legislative review annexation proceedings must follow the process set out in 3 AAC 110.425. It is best to make a draft of the prospective annexation petition available for public review well before the public hearing. A summary of the annexation petition should also be available for public review well before the hearing. The summary must include:

- a map of the area proposed for annexation;
- a synopsis of petitioner’s views regarding how the annexation standards apply to the petition;
- a summary of the reasonably anticipated effects of annexation; and
- an abstract of the transition plan.

The petitioner must make both the petition and the summary publically available at least before it first publishes or posts the public notice of the hearing. 3 AAC 110.425 requires the department to draft both the notice and the public service announcement that the petitioner must make. The petitioner must make copies of the prospective petition publically available at convenient locations in or near the area proposed for annexation.
The hearing must address:

- the annexation standards;
- how the standards apply to the petition;
- legislative review annexation procedures;
- the reasonably anticipated effects of annexation; and
- the proposed transition plan.

Ideally, the petitioner should give public notice of the hearing in the manner 3 AAC 110.550 provides for a LBC hearing. The petitioner should hold the hearing at a convenient location in or near the area proposed for annexation and provide for a period of public comment on the petition. If the prospective petitioner is a borough, its assembly must conduct the hearing.

After the hearing the petitioner must send the department:

- evidence that it has given the required public notice and public service announcement;
- a written summary or transcript of the hearing;
- a copy of any written materials the petitioner received during the hearing; and
- an audio recording of the hearing.

GATHERING SIGNATURES FOR A PETITION AND DETERMINING THE NUMBER OF SIGNATURES NECESSARY

Anyone can draft a petition, but only certain entities are allowed to submit a petition to the LBC. 3 AAC 110.410(a)(7) and 3 AAC 110.410(a)(8)(A) states that a voter initiated borough annexation petition must be signed by at least 10 percent of persons who:

- are registered voters in the borough seeking annexation;
  or
- those who are registered to vote in the area proposed for annexation.

To do so, ask Alaska’s Division of Elections how many registered voters there are in the borough, or in the area proposed for annexation.
STANDARDS AND PROCEDURES FOR Petitions

3 AAC 110.400 – 3 AAC 110.700 contain the procedures for borough annexation petitions. The procedures are designed to reasonably and timely decide every petition before the LBC. They are also intended to ensure that commission decisions are based on analyzing the facts and the applicable legal standards. The LBC also considers the positions of interested parties and the public. A brief summary of the procedures is:

1. A petition is filed with the LBC
2. The department performs technical review on the petition to see whether it is complete
3. If the department accepts the petition for filing, the department reviews the petition to see whether it meets the standards. The department writes public reports with recommendations to the LBC, and the public can comment on the petition and the preliminary report.
4. The LBC holds a public hearing(s) and makes a decision
5. An opportunity for reconsideration by the LBC
6. The area transitions to a borough after voter approval or after legislative review

TECHNICAL REVIEW

Once the petitioner has corrected or completed the petition per the informal technical review and gathered the necessary signatures, it can send the department staff the petition for the formal technical review. Even if the staff performed an informal technical review, a formal technical review is still necessary and required. The technical review includes determining whether there are enough valid signatures to proceed.

3 AAC 110.440 gives the staff 45 days to complete a technical review (although the LBC chair can grant more time for good cause). Staff will return the petition to the petitioner to correct and complete if necessary.

It is important to note that the technical review only determines whether the petition has all of the required information. It does not examine the merits of a petition. A petition could pass technical review because it has all of the required information, but staff could still recommend that the LBC deny the petition if it finds that the petition does not meet all of the standards.

If the petition contains all the information required by law, the department accepts it for filing and informs the petitioner. In its acceptance letter, the department will provide the petitioner a public notice packet. The packet will outline what steps the petitioner must take to provide the required notice of the petition’s acceptance to the public and others.

Borough Annexation in Alaska-26
PUBLIC NOTICE AND PUBLIC REVIEW

Once the department accepts a petition for filing, both the petitioner and the department provide extensive public notice. Interested parties have at least seven weeks to submit responsive briefs and comments supporting or opposing a petition. The petitioner has at least two weeks to file one brief replying to any responsive briefs.

DEPARTMENTAL ANALYSIS OF THE PETITION

Following the public comment period, the department analyzes the petition, responsive briefs, written comments, reply brief, and other materials as part of its investigation. The department may, but is not required to, hold a public informational meeting in or near the area proposed for annexation. At the end of its investigation, the department issues a preliminary report for public review and comment. The public comment period on the report lasts for at least four weeks. The report includes a formal recommendation to the LBC on the petition. The recommendation is based on looking at the petition, the comments, and the briefs, and determining whether the petition meets the standards. Due process is best served by the staff providing the LBC with a thorough, credible, and objective analysis of the petition.

The public can submit comments on the preliminary report. After reviewing and considering those comments, the department issues its final report. Based on those comments or other factors, the department could change its recommendation. The final report must be issued at least three weeks before the hearing on the petition.

COMMISSION REVIEW OF MATERIALS AND PUBLIC HEARING

Members of the commission review the petition, responsive briefs, written comments, reply brief, and departmental reports. The LBC is an independent commission and is not obligated to follow the staff’s recommendation, although it does consider it.

If circumstances permit, LBC members tour the area in question before the hearing in order to better understand the area.

Following extensive public notice, the commission conducts at least one public hearing on the petition. At this hearing petitioners and respondents may state their positions and present witnesses. The hearing does not include direct or cross examination of witnesses. Members of the public are given the opportunity to comment, and commissioners may ask questions.

LBC DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY FOR RECONSIDERATION

The LBC must act on the petition within 90 days of the hearing. Typically, however, it holds a decisional meeting immediately after the hearing.

Borough Annexation in Alaska-27
The commission may take any one of the following actions:

- approve the petition as presented;
- amend the petition (e.g., alter the boundaries) or impose conditions on approval of the petition (e.g., require an additional public meeting); or
- deny the petition.

The LBC considers the entire record when it reaches a decision on a petition. Its decisions, and how it reaches them must have a reasonable basis. To do so the commission must rationally interpret the legal standards and rationally evaluate the evidence. The LBC must proceed within its jurisdiction, conduct a fair hearing, and not abuse its discretion. Abuse of discretion occurs if the commission has not proceeded in the manner required by law or if the evidence does not support the LBC’s decision.

Within 30 days of announcing its decision, the commission must adopt and issue a written statement setting out the basis for its decision. It provides copies of the decision to the petitioner, respondents, and others who request it. At that point, the decision becomes final.

Per 3 AAC 110.580, any person may ask the commission to reconsider its decision, based on certain criteria:

- a substantial procedural error occurred in the original proceeding;
- the original vote was based on fraud or misrepresentation;
- the commission failed to address a material issue of fact or a controlling principle of law; or
- new evidence not available at the time of the hearing relating to a matter of significant public policy has become known.

Such requests must be filed within 18 days of the date that the decision became final (the date the LBC issued its written decision). The LBC itself may reconsider its decision within 30 days of that date, based on the same criteria. The request is automatically denied if the commission does not approve a reconsideration request within 30 days of when the decision became final.

IMPLEMENTATION

If the commission approves a petition, the petition is either subject to voter approval or submitted to the legislature, if the petition used the local option method or the legislative review method. A local option by election petition approved by the LBC takes effect when any condition imposed by the commission is satisfied, and the election is certified. Legislative review petitions take effect if the legislature either takes no action within 45 days of receiving the commission’s decision, or fails to pass a resolution concurred in by a majority of each house.
disapproving the commission’s decision. Decisions are no longer subject to Department of Justice review under the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

Borough Annexation in Alaska-30
CONCLUSION

This packet seeks to inform Alaska residents interested in annexing to a borough by providing the necessary resources to start the petition process. Staff is available for support, and should be consulted when preparing a petition and before gathering any signatures. Borough annexation is no small endeavor. It can take much longer than a year when including the time to plan and draft a petition.

There are varied reasons why a borough should annex an area. Even though people may debate the wisdom of borough annexation, a borough has the ability and power to provide local services if it has enough people and sufficient revenue.

The commission staff is available to answer questions and to give information to both proponents and opponents of borough annexation.

Borough Annexation in Alaska-34
CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF ALASKA: ARTICLE 10, LOCAL GOVERNMENT

SECTION 1. PURPOSE AND CONSTRUCTION. The purpose of this article is to provide for maximum local self-government with a minimum of local government units, and to prevent duplication of tax-levying jurisdictions. A liberal construction shall be given to the powers of local government units.

SECTION 2. LOCAL GOVERNMENT POWERS. All local government powers shall be vested in boroughs and cities. The State may delegate taxing powers to organized boroughs and cities only.

SECTION 3. BOROUGHS. The entire State shall be divided into boroughs, organized or unorganized. They shall be established in a manner and according to standards provided by law. The standards shall include population, geography, economy, transportation, and other factors. Each borough shall embrace an area and population with common interests to the maximum degree possible. The legislature shall classify boroughs and prescribe their powers and functions. Methods by which boroughs may be organized, incorporated, merged, consolidated, reclassified, or dissolved shall be prescribed by law.

SECTION 4. ASSEMBLY. The governing body of the organized borough shall be the assembly, and its composition shall be established by law or charter.

SECTION 5. SERVICE AREAS. Service areas to provide special services within an organized borough may be established, altered, or abolished by the assembly, subject to the provisions of law or charter. A new service area shall not be established if, consistent with the purposes of this article, the new service can be provided by an existing service area, by incorporation as a city, or by annexation to a city. The assembly may authorize the levying of taxes, charges, or assessments within a service area to finance the special services.

SECTION 11. HOME RULE POWERS. A home rule borough or city may exercise all legislative powers not prohibited by law or by charter.

SECTION 12. BOUNDARIES. A local boundary commission or board shall be established by law in the executive branch of the state government. The commission or board may consider any proposed local government boundary change. It may present proposed changes to the legislature during the first ten days of any regular session. The change shall become effective forty-five days after presentation or at the end of the session, whichever is earlier, unless disapproved by a resolution concurred in by a majority of the members of each house. The commission or board, subject to law, may establish procedures whereby boundaries may be adjusted by local action.

SECTION 13. AGREEMENTS; TRANSFER OF POWERS. Agreements, including those for cooperative or joint administration of any functions or powers, may be made by any local government with any other local government, with the State, or with the United States, unless otherwise provided by law or charter. A city may transfer to the borough in which it is located any of its powers or functions unless prohibited by law or charter, and may in like manner revoke the transfer.

SECTION 14. LOCAL GOVERNMENT AGENCY. An agency shall be established by law in the executive branch of the state government to advise and assist local governments. It shall review their activities, collect and publish local government information, and perform other duties prescribed by law.

SEC. 29.06.040. LOCAL BOUNDARY COMMISSION
(a) The Local Boundary Commission may consider any proposed municipal boundary change. The commission may amend the proposed change and may impose conditions on the proposed change. If the commission determines that the proposed change, as amended or conditioned if appropriate, meets applicable standards under the state constitution and commission regulations and is in the best interests of the state, it may accept the proposed change. Otherwise it shall reject the proposed change. A Local Boundary Commission decision under this subsection may be appealed under AS 44.62 (Administrative Procedure Act).
Local Boundary Commission may present a proposed municipal boundary change to the legislature during the first 10 days of a regular session. The change becomes effective 45 days after presentation or at the end of the session, whichever is earlier, unless disapproved by a resolution concurred in by a majority of the members of each house.

(b) In addition to the regulations governing annexation by local action adopted under AS 44.33.812, the Local Boundary Commission shall establish procedures for annexation and detachment of territory by municipalities by local action. The procedures established under this subsection must include a provision that

1. a proposed annexation must be approved by a majority of votes on the question cast by voters residing in the annexing municipality;
2. a proposed annexation or detachment must be approved by a majority of votes on the question cast by voters residing in the area proposed to be annexed or detached;
3. municipally owned property adjoining the municipality may be annexed by ordinance without voter approval; and
4. an area adjoining the municipality may be annexed by ordinance without an election if all property owners and voters in the area petition the governing body.

(c) A boundary change effected under (a) and (b) of this section prevails over a boundary change initiated by local action, without regard to priority in time. (§ 5 ch 74 SLA 1985; am § 14 ch 58 SLA 1994; am § 36 ch 30 SLA 1996; am § 29 ch 58 SLA 1999; am § 3 ch 86 SLA 1999; am § 3 ch 46 SLA 2006)

However, notwithstanding other provisions of law, the municipality may provide services in the annexed area that are funded wholly or partially with property taxes during the period before the municipality may levy property taxes in the annexed area.

(b) If an area is detached from a municipality, all property taxes that are levied by that municipality on property in the detached area based on an assessment that occurred before the effective date of the detachment remain valid. AS 29.45.290 - 29.45.500 apply to the enforcement of those taxes. (§ 2 ch 12 SLA 2004)

ALASKA ADMINISTRATIVE CODE, PART 15, CHAPTER 110, ARTICLE 4
STANDARDS FOR ANNEXATION TO BOROUGHS

3 AAC 110.160. RELATIONSHIP OF INTERESTS
(a) On a regional scale suitable for borough government, the social, cultural, and economic characteristics and activities of the people in the area proposed for annexation must be interrelated and integrated with the characteristics and activities of the people in the existing borough. In this regard, the commission may consider relevant factors, including
1. compatibility of urban and rural areas within the proposed expanded boundaries of the borough;
2. compatibility of economic lifestyles and industrial or commercial activities within the proposed expanded boundaries of the borough;
3. existence of customary and simple transportation and communication patterns throughout the proposed expanded boundaries of the borough; and
4. extent and accommodation of spoken language differences throughout the proposed expanded boundaries of the borough.
(b) The communications media and the land, water, and air transportation facilities throughout the proposed expanded boundaries of the borough must allow for the level of communications and exchange necessary to develop an integrated borough government. In this regard, the commission may consider relevant factors, including
(1) transportation schedules and costs;
(2) geographical and climatic impediments;
(3) telephonic and teleconferencing facilities; and
(4) electronic media for use by the public.
(c) In determining whether communications and exchange patterns are sufficient, the commission may consider whether
(1) all communities within the proposed borough after annexation are connected to the borough seat by a public roadway, regular scheduled airline flights on at least a weekly basis, regular ferry service on at least a weekly basis, a charter flight service based in the proposed borough after annexation, other customary means of travel including boats and snow machines, or sufficient electronic media communications; and
(2) the communications and exchange patterns would adequately facilitate interrelationships and integration of the people in an expanded borough.

3 AAC 110.170. POPULATION
The population of the proposed borough after annexation must be sufficiently large and stable to support the resulting borough. In this regard, the commission may consider relevant factors, including
(1) census enumerations;
(2) durations of residency;
(3) historical population patterns;
(4) seasonal population changes;
(5) age distributions;
(6) contemporary and historical public school enrollment data; and
(7) nonconfidential data from the Department of Revenue regarding applications under AS 43.23 for permanent fund dividends.

3 AAC 110.180. RESOURCES
The economy within the proposed expanded boundaries of the borough must include the human and financial resources necessary to provide the development of essential municipal services. In this regard, the commission may consider relevant factors, including the
(1) reasonably anticipated functions of the borough in the area proposed for annexation;

Borough Annexation in Alaska-40
reasonably anticipated new expenses of the borough that would result from annexation; actual income and the reasonably anticipated ability of the borough to generate and collect local revenue and income from the new area;
feasibility and plausibility of those aspects of the borough's anticipated operating and capital budgets that would be affected by annexation through the period extending one full fiscal year beyond the reasonably anticipated date for completion of the transition set out in 3 AAC 110.900;
economic base of the area within the borough after annexation;
valuations of taxable property in the area proposed for annexation;
land use in the area proposed for annexation;
existing and reasonably anticipated industrial, commercial, and resource development in the area proposed for annexation;
personal income of residents in the area to be annexed and in the borough; and the need for and availability of employable skilled and unskilled persons to serve the borough government as a result of annexation.

3 AAC 110.190. BOUNDARIES
(a) The proposed expanded boundaries of the borough must conform generally to natural geography and must include all land and water necessary to provide the development of essential municipal services. In this regard, the commission may consider relevant factors, including land use and ownership patterns;
ethnicity and cultures;
existing and reasonably anticipated transportation patterns and facilities; natural geographical features and environmental factors; and extraterritorial powers of boroughs.
(b) Absent a specific and persuasive showing to the contrary, the commission will presume that an area that is not contiguous to the annexing borough, or that would create enclaves in the annexing borough, does not include all land and water necessary to allow for the development of essential municipal services.
(c) When considering the annexation of area to a borough, the commission may review the model borough boundaries for the area for which annexation is proposed; regional boundaries, including
(A) boundaries of one or more regional educational attendance areas existing in the area proposed for annexation;
(B) federal census area boundaries;
(C) boundaries for regional Native corporations under 43 U.S.C. 1601 - 1629h (Alaska Native Claims Settlement Act); and
(D) boundaries of national forests;
(3) whether the borough will, following the proposed annexation, embrace a maximum area and population with common interests;
(4) whether the annexation promotes maximum local self-government, as determined under 3 AAC 110.981;
(5) whether the annexation promotes a minimum number of local government units, as determined under 3 AAC 110.982 and in accordance with art. X, sec. 1, Constitution of the State of Alaska; and
(6) whether the proposed borough boundaries are the optimum boundaries for that region in accordance with art. X, sec. 3, Constitution of the State of Alaska.

(d) Repealed 1/9/2008;
(e) If a petition for annexation to a borough describes boundaries overlapping the boundaries of an existing organized borough, the petition for annexation must also address and comply with the standards and procedures for detachment of the overlapping region from the existing organized borough.
(f) A petition for annexation to a borough may not include only a portion of the territory of an existing city government.
(g) Requirements relating to limitation of community, as set out in 3 AAC 110.130(c), do not apply to boroughs.

3 AAC 110.195. BEST INTERESTS OF STATE
In determining whether annexation to a borough is in the best interests of the state under AS 29.06.040(a), the commission may consider relevant factors, including whether annexation
(1) promotes maximum local self-government, as determined under 3 AAC 110.981;
(2) promotes a minimum number of local government units, as determined under 3 AAC 110.982 and in accordance with art. X, sec. 1, Constitution of the State of Alaska; and
(3) will relieve the state government of the responsibility of providing local services.

3 AAC 110.200. LEGISLATIVE REVIEW
Area that meets the annexation standards specified in 3 AAC 110.160 - 3 AAC 110.195 may be annexed to a borough by the legislative review process if the commission also determines that any one of the following circumstances exists:

Borough Annexation in Alaska-42
(1) the area manifests a reasonable need for borough government that can be met most efficiently and effectively by the annexing borough;
(2) the area is wholly or substantially surrounded by the annexing borough;
(3) the health, safety, or general welfare of borough residents is or will be endangered by conditions existing or potentially developing in the area, and annexation will enable the borough to regulate or control the detrimental effect of those conditions;
(4) the extension of borough services or facilities into the area is necessary to enable the borough to provide adequate services to borough residents, and it is impossible or impractical for the borough to extend the facilities or services unless the area is within the boundaries of the borough;
(5) residents or property owners within the area receive, or may be reasonably expected to receive, directly or indirectly, the benefit of borough government without commensurate tax contributions, whether these benefits are rendered or received inside or outside the area, and no practical or equitable alternative method is available to offset the cost of providing these benefits;
(6) annexation of the area will enable the borough to plan and control reasonably anticipated growth or development in the area that otherwise may adversely impact the borough;
(7) repealed 5/19/2002;
(8) annexation of the area will promote
   (A) maximum local self-government, as determined under 3 AAC 110.981; and
   (B) a minimum number of local government units, as determined under 3 AAC 110.982 and in accordance with art. X, sec. 1, Constitution of the State of Alaska;
(9) annexation of the area will enhance the extent to which the annexing borough meets the standards for incorporation of boroughs, as set out in the Constitution of the State of Alaska, AS 29.05, and 3 AAC 110.045 - 3 AAC 110.065, and is in the best interests of the state;
(10) the commission determines that specific policies set out in the Constitution of the State of Alaska, AS 29.04, AS 29.05, or AS 29.06 are best served through annexation of the area by the legislative review process, and that annexation is in the best interests of the state.

(1) borough ordinance if the area is wholly owned by the annexing borough;
(2) borough ordinance and a petition signed by all the voters and property owners of the area;
(3) approval by a majority of votes on the question cast by voters residing in
   (A) the area; and

3 AAC 110.570. DECISIONAL MEETING
(a) Within 90 days after the last commission hearing on a proposed change, the commission will convene a decisional meeting to examine the written briefs, exhibits, comments, and testimony and to reach a decision regarding the proposed change. During the decisional meeting,
    (1) the commission will not receive new evidence, testimony, or briefing;
    (2) the chair of the commission or a commission member may ask the department or a person for a point of information or clarification; and
    (3) the department may raise a point of information or clarification.
(b) Repealed 1/9/2008.
(c) If the commission determines that a proposed change must be altered or a condition must be satisfied to meet the standards contained in the Constitution of the State of Alaska, AS 29.04, AS 29.05, AS 29.06, or this chapter, and be in the best interests of the state, the commission may alter or attach a condition to the proposed change and accept the petition as altered or conditioned. A motion to alter, impose conditions upon, or approve a proposed change requires at least three affirmative votes by commission members to constitute approval. If the proposed change is a

1. municipal annexation, detachment, deunification, dissolution, merger, or consolidation, a city reclassification, or a legislative-review borough incorporation under AS 29.05.115, and if the commission determines that the proposed change must be altered or a condition must be satisfied before the proposed change can take effect, the commission will include that condition or alteration in its decision; or

2. municipal incorporation subject to AS 29.05.060-29.05.110, and if the commission determines that an amendment to the petition or the placement of a condition on incorporation may be warranted, the department shall provide public notice and an opportunity for public comment on the alteration or condition before the commission amends the petition or imposes a condition upon incorporation; if the department recommended the proposed change or condition and the public had an opportunity to comment on the proposed change or condition at a commission hearing, an additional notice or comment period is not required.

(d) If the commission determines that a proposed change fails to meet the standards contained in the Constitution of the State of Alaska, AS 29.04, AS 29.05, AS 29.06, or this chapter, or is not in the best interests of the state, the commission will reject the proposed change. If a motion to grant a proposed change receives fewer than three affirmative votes by commission members, the proposed change is rejected.

(e) The commission will keep written minutes of a decisional meeting. Each vote taken by the commission will be entered in the minutes. The approved minutes are a public record.

(f) Within 30 days after the date of its decision, the commission will issue a written decision explaining all major considerations leading to the decision. A copy of the statement will be mailed to the petitioner, respondents, and other interested persons requesting a copy. The department shall execute and file an affidavit of mailing as a part of the public record of the proceedings.

(g) Unless reconsideration is requested timely under 3 AAC 110.580 or the commission, on its own motion, orders reconsideration under 3 AAC 110.580, a decision by the commission is final on the day that the written statement of decision is mailed, postage prepaid, to the petitioners and the respondents.
3 AAC 110.580. RECONSIDERATION

(a) Within 18 days after a written statement of decision is mailed under 3 AAC 110.570(f), a person may file an original and five copies of a request for reconsideration of all or part of that decision, describing in detail the facts and analyses that support the request for reconsideration.

(b) Within 30 days after a written statement of decision is mailed under 3 AAC 110.570(f), the commission may, on its own motion, order reconsideration of all or part of that decision.

(c) A person filing a request for reconsideration shall provide the department with a copy of the request for reconsideration and supporting materials in an electronic format, unless the department waives this requirement because the person requesting reconsideration lacks a readily accessible means or the capability to provide items in an electronic format. A request for reconsideration must be filed with an affidavit of service of the request for reconsideration on the petitioner and each respondent by regular mail, postage prepaid, or by hand-delivery. A request for reconsideration must also be filed with an affidavit that, to the best of the affiant's knowledge, information, and belief, formed after reasonable inquiry, the request for reconsideration is founded in fact and is not submitted to harass or to cause unnecessary delay or needless expense in the cost of processing the petition.

(d) If the person filing the request for reconsideration is a group, the request must identify a representative of the group. Each request for reconsideration must provide the physical residence address and mailing address of the person filing the request for reconsideration and the telephone number, facsimile number, and electronic mail address, if any, for the person or representative of the group.

(e) The commission will grant a request for reconsideration or, on its own motion, order reconsideration of a decision only if the commission determines that
   (1) a substantial procedural error occurred in the original proceeding;
   (2) the original vote was based on fraud or misrepresentation;
   (3) the commission failed to address a material issue of fact or a controlling principle of law; or
   (4) new evidence not available at the time of the hearing relating to a matter of significant public policy has become known.

(f) If the commission does not act on a request for reconsideration within 30 days after the decision was mailed under 3 AAC 110.570(f), the request is automatically denied. If it orders reconsideration or grants a request for reconsideration within 30 days after the decision was mailed under 3 AAC 110.570(f), the commission will allow a petitioner or respondent 10 days after the date reconsideration is ordered or the request for reconsideration is granted to file an original and five copies of a responsive brief describing in detail the facts and analyses that support or oppose the decision being reconsidered. The petitioner or respondent shall provide the department with a copy of the responsive brief in an electronic format, unless the department waives this requirement because the petitioner or respondent lacks a readily accessible means or the capability to provide items in an electronic format.

(g) Within 90 days after the department receives timely filed responsive briefs, the commission, by means of the decisional meeting procedure set out in 3 AAC 110.570(a) - (f), will issue a decision on reconsideration. A decision on reconsideration by the commission is final on the day that the written statement of decision is mailed, postage prepaid, to the petitioner and the respondents.

(8) the decisional meeting under 3 AAC 110.570, except that the commission will convene a decisional meeting to examine the written briefs, exhibits, comments, and testimony and to reach a decision regarding the proposed change within 10 days after the last commission hearing on the petition;

(a) In accordance with AS 29.04, AS 29.05, and AS 29.06, the commission will notify the director of elections of the commission's acceptance of a local action or local option petition proposing city reclassification under AS 29.04, municipal incorporation under art. X, sec. 12 of the Constitution of the State of Alaska or AS 29.05, and municipal dissolution, deunification, merger, or consolidation under AS 29.06.

(b) If AS 29.06.040 requires a municipal election for a proposed annexation or detachment, the commission will notify the clerk of the municipality proposed for change of the commission's acceptance of a local action petition. The election must be administered by the municipality proposed for change at the municipality's own cost and in the manner prescribed by its municipal election ordinances, except that the commission may specify the wording of the ballot measure and broaden the election notice requirements.

(c) If a petition for detachment under AS 29.06.040 and incorporation under AS 29.05 requires a municipal election, the commission will notify the director of elections of the commission's acceptance of a local option petition and that the election must be a combined one for detachment and incorporation.
3 AAC 110.610. LEGISLATIVE REVIEW
(a) The commission may determine during the course of proceedings that a legislative review petition must be amended and considered as a local action or local option petition if the commission determines that the balanced best interests of the locality and the state are enhanced by local participation.
(b) If a decision of the commission requires legislative review, the commission will present a recommendation for the decision to the legislature during the first 10 days of a regular session in accordance with art. X, sec. 12, Constitution of the State of Alaska.

3 AAC 110.620. JUDICIAL REVIEW
A final decision of the commission made under the Constitution of the State of Alaska, AS 29.04, AS 29.05, AS 29.06, or this chapter may be appealed to the superior court in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act (AS 44.62).
3 AAC 110.630. EFFECTIVE DATE AND CERTIFICATION

(a) Except as provided in (b) or (c) of this section, a final decision of the commission is effective when
(1) notification of compliance with 42 U.S.C. 1973c (Voting Rights Act of 1965) is received from the United States Department of Justice;
(2) certification of the legally required voter approval of the commission's final decision is received from the director of elections or the appropriate municipal official; and
(3) 45 days have passed since presentation of the commission's final decision on a legislative review petition was made to the legislature and the legislature has not disapproved the decision.

(b) The effective date of a merger or consolidation is the date set by the director of elections for the election of officials of the remaining or new municipality, if the provisions of (a) of this section have also been satisfied.

(c) The commission may defer the effective date of a city reclassification under AS 29.04, municipal incorporation under the Constitution of the State of Alaska or AS 29.05, or municipal annexation, detachment, deunification, merger, consolidation, or dissolution under AS 29.06 for a period of no more than two years.

(d) When the requirements in (a) of this section have been met, the department shall issue a certificate describing the effective change. The department shall hand-deliver or mail, postage prepaid, a copy of the certificate to the municipality that has been changed and shall file a copy of the certificate in each recording district of all territory within the municipality that has been changed.

(e) If a minor error is found in the certificate issued under (d) of this section, the person discovering the error shall notify the department and the commission. If the commission determines that the error resulted from an oversight during the petition proceeding or the issuance of the certificate, the commission will direct the department to issue a corrected certificate. The commission will not consider a request for a corrected certificate to include area or territory not proposed in the boundary change proceeding for which the certificate was issued.
3 AAC 110.640. SCHEDULING
(a) The chair of the commission shall set or amend the schedule for action on a petition.
(b) In a schedule under (a) of this section, and except as provided by 3 AAC 110.590 for certain local action annexations, the chair of the commission shall allow at least
   (1) 49 days after the date of initial publication or posting of notice of the filing of a petition, whichever occurs first, for receipt by the department of a responsive brief or written comments concerning the petition;
   (2) 14 days after the date of service of a responsive brief on the petitioner for the receipt by the department of a reply brief from the petitioner. Contemporaneously with notice to the petitioner of the date for filing its reply brief, the department shall provide notice to respondents and commentors of that date;
   (3) 28 days after the date of mailing of a departmental preliminary report for receipt of written summary comments to the department; and
   (4) 21 days between the date of mailing of a final report and the commission hearing on the petition.
(c) As provided under 3 AAC 110.430, the commission may postpone proceedings on a petition that has been accepted for filing to allow concurrent consideration and action on another petition that pertains to some or all the same boundaries and that has either been accepted for filing or is anticipated to be filed. The commission may postpone the proceedings for an anticipated competing petition only if the anticipated competing petition is received by the department no later than 90 days after the date of the first publication of notice of the earlier petition under 3 AAC 110.450.
(d) The chair of the commission will adjust the schedule in (b)(1) - (4) of this section to accommodate the procedures under 3 AAC 110.475 if a request for summary determination is filed on the petition.

The purpose of the procedural requirements set out in 3 AAC 110.400 - 3 AAC 110.700 is to facilitate the business of the commission, and will be construed to secure the reasonable, speedy, and inexpensive determination of every action and proceeding. Unless a requirement is strictly provided for in the Constitution of the State of Alaska, AS 29, or AS 44.33.810 - 44.33.849, the commission, by a vote of at least three members, may relax or suspend a procedural regulation if the commission determines that a strict adherence to the regulation would work injustice, would result in a substantially uninformed decision, or would not serve relevant constitutional principles and the broad public interest.

the meeting, and unless AS 44.33.818 or an applicable provision of this chapter sets out a more stringent publication requirement, the department shall publish notice of that meeting in a newspaper of general circulation in the vicinity where the meeting will be held or teleconferenced. If time is insufficient to arrange for publication of a complete notice as described in this subsection, the department shall publish an abbreviated notice that includes the date, time, and place of the meeting, the originating site of any teleconferencing facilities that will be used, and a statement that additional information regarding the meeting is available at the commission's offices and on the commission's website. Before the date and time of the meeting, the department shall
(1) post the complete notice of the meeting on the commission's website;
(2) transmit the complete notice to subscribers to the commission's electronic notice list;
(3) notify by telephone, electronic mail, or facsimile transmission those persons whom the chair of the commission determines to warrant notice by those means;
(4) mail or otherwise provide the complete notice to each person who requests it; and
(5) mail or otherwise distribute notice as directed by the commission chair.
(b) The department shall prepare an agenda of each public meeting as directed by the chair, make the agenda available for public inspection and copying at the commission's offices, post it on the commission's website, serve it by electronic mail on subscribers to the commission's electronic notice service, and mail or otherwise provide it to each person who requests a copy. The department shall also make copies of the agenda available at the public meeting.
(c) To the extent time permits, a public meeting agenda must be available at least 48 hours before the scheduled time of the meeting. If time does not allow that advanced publication, the agenda must be posted and distributed as soon as it is available but no later than the date of the meeting.

ARTICLE 14 GENERAL PROVISIONS

3 AAC 110.900. TRANSITION

(a) A petition for incorporation, annexation, merger, or consolidation must include a practical plan that demonstrates the capacity of the municipal government to extend essential municipal services into the boundaries proposed for change in the shortest practicable time after the effective date of the proposed change. A petition for municipal detachment or dissolution under AS 29.06, or a city reclassification under AS 29.04, must include a practical plan demonstrating the transition or termination of municipal services in the shortest practicable time after detachment, dissolution, or city reclassification.

(b) Each petition must include a practical plan for the assumption of all relevant and appropriate powers, duties, rights, and functions presently exercised by an existing borough, city, unorganized borough service area, or other appropriate entity located within the boundaries proposed for change. The plan must be prepared in consultation with the officials of each existing borough, city, and unorganized borough service area and must be designed to effect an orderly, efficient, and economical transfer within the shortest practicable time, not to exceed two years after the effective date of the proposed change.

(c) Each petition must include a practical plan for the transfer and integration of all relevant and appropriate assets and liabilities of an existing borough, city, unorganized borough service area, and other entity located within the boundaries proposed for change. The plan must be prepared in consultation with the officials of each existing borough, city, and unorganized borough service area wholly or partially included within the boundaries proposed for change and must be designed to effect an orderly, efficient, and economical transfer within the shortest practicable time, not to exceed two years after the date of the proposed change. The plan must specifically address procedures that ensure that the transfer and integration occur without loss of value in assets, loss of credit reputation, or a reduced bond rating for liabilities.

(d) Before approving a proposed change, the commission may require that all boroughs, cities, unorganized borough service areas, or other entities wholly or partially included within the boundaries of the proposed change execute an agreement prescribed or approved by the commission for the assumption of powers, duties, rights, and functions, and for the transfer and integration of assets and liabilities.

(e) The transition plan must state the names and titles of all officials of each existing borough, city, and unorganized borough service area that were consulted by the petitioner. The dates on which that consultation occurred and the subject addressed during that consultation must also be listed.

(f) If a prospective petitioner has been unable to consult with officials of an existing borough, city, or unorganized borough service area because those officials have chosen not to consult or were unavailable during reasonable times to consult with a prospective petitioner, the prospective petitioner may request that the commission waive the requirement for consultation with those officials. The request for a waiver must document all attempts by the prospective petitioner to consult with officials of each existing borough, city, and unorganized borough service area. If the commission determines that the prospective petitioner acted in good faith and that further efforts to consult with the officials would not be productive in a reasonable period of time, the commission may waive the requirement for consultation.

3 AAC 110.910. STATEMENT OF NONDISCRIMINATION

A petition will not be approved by the commission if the effect of the proposed change denies any person the enjoyment of any civil or political right, including voting rights, because of race, color, creed, sex, or national origin.
3 AAC 110.970. DETERMINATION OF ESSENTIAL MUNICIPAL SERVICES

(a) If a provision of this chapter calls for the identification of essential municipal services for a borough, the commission will determine those services to consist of those mandatory and discretionary powers and facilities that

(1) are reasonably necessary to the area; and

(2) promote maximum local self-government.

(b) The commission may determine essential municipal services for a borough to include

(1) assessing the value of taxable property if the proposed or existing borough proposes to levy or levies a property tax;

(2) levying and collecting taxes if the proposed or existing borough proposes to levy or levies taxes;

(3) establishing, maintaining, and operating a system of public schools on an area-wide basis as provided in AS 14.14.065;

(4) planning, platting, and land use regulation; and

(5) other services that the commission considers reasonably necessary to meet the borough governmental needs of the residents of the area.

(c) If a provision of this chapter calls for the identification of essential municipal services for a city, the commission will determine those services to consist of those mandatory and discretionary powers and facilities that

(1) are reasonably necessary to the community;

(2) promote maximum, local self-government; and

(3) cannot be provided more efficiently and more effectively by the creation or modification of some other political subdivision of the state.

(d) The commission may determine essential municipal services for a city to include

(1) levying taxes;

(2) for a city in the unorganized borough, assessing the value of taxable property;

(3) levying and collecting taxes;

(4) for a first class or home rule city in the unorganized borough, establishing, maintaining, and operating a system of public schools within the city as provided in AS 14.14.065;

(5) public safety protection;

(6) planning, platting, and land use regulation; and

(7) other services that the commission considers reasonably necessary to meet the local governmental needs of the residents of the community.
In determining whether a proposed boundary change promotes maximum local self-government under art. X, sec. 1, Constitution of the State of Alaska, the commission will consider

1. for borough incorporation, whether the proposal would extend local government on a regional scale to a significant area and population of the unorganized borough;

2. for borough annexation, whether the proposal would extend local government to portions of the unorganized borough;

3. for merger or consolidation of municipalities, whether the proposal would expand or diminish the level of local government currently provided by the municipalities being merged or consolidated;

4. for borough detachment, whether the proposal would
   (A) diminish the provision of local government to the area and population being detached; or
   (B) detrimentally affect the capacity of the remnant borough to serve the local government needs of its residents; and

5. for borough dissolution, whether the proposal substantiates that the provision of local government is no longer necessary or supportable for the area;

6. for deunification, whether the proposal substantiates that the provision of local government is not diminished by deunification or that deunification could lead to better local government by incorporation of other local governments better suited to needs of the area and population;

7. for city incorporation or annexation in the unorganized borough, whether the proposal would extend local government to territory and population of the unorganized borough where no local government currently exists;

8. for city incorporation or annexation in an organized borough, whether the proposal would extend local government to territory or population of the organized borough where local government needs cannot be met by the borough on an areawide or nonareawide basis, by annexation to an existing city, or through an existing borough service area;

9. for city detachment in an organized borough, whether the proposal would
   (A) diminish the provision of local government to the territory and population being detached; or
   (B) detrimentally affect the capacity of the remnant city to serve the local government needs of its residents; and

10. for city detachment in the unorganized borough, whether the proposal would
    (A) diminish the provision of local government to the territory and population being detached; or
    (B) detrimentally affect the capacity of the remnant city to provide local government services; and
(B) local government needs of the detached territory and population can be adequately met by another existing local government;

(11) for city dissolution in an organized borough, whether the proposal substantiates that the
(A) provision of local government is no longer necessary or supportable for the territory; or
(B) local government needs of the territory could be better provided by the borough;

(12) for city dissolution in the unorganized borough, whether the proposal substantiates that the
(A) provision of local government is no longer necessary or supportable for the territory; or
(B) local government needs of the territory could be better provided by a governmental organization other than the city;

(13) for city reclassification, whether the proposal would expand or diminish the provision of local government to the territory being reclassified;

(14) whether the petition proposes incorporation of a home rule municipality.

Among the factors to be considered in determining whether a proposed boundary change promotes a minimum number of local government units in accordance with art. X, sec. 1, Constitution of the State of Alaska, the commission will consider

1. for borough incorporation, whether a new borough will be created from the unorganized borough and whether the proposed boundaries maximize an area and population with common interests;
2. for borough annexation, whether the jurisdictional boundaries of an existing borough are being enlarged rather than promoting the incorporation of a new borough and whether the proposed boundaries maximize an area and population with common interests;
3. for borough merger or consolidation, whether the merged or consolidated borough minimizes the number of local government units and whether the boundaries of the merged or consolidated borough maximize an area and population with common interests;
4. for borough detachment, whether the detached area by itself is likely to be incorporated as an organized borough;
5. for deunification of a unified municipality, whether
   (A) incorporation of one or more new cities is likely to occur as a result of the proposed action, and, if so, the reasons why a new incorporation is or will be needed; or
   (B) the action is proposed as an alternative to detachment of area and incorporation of one or more new boroughs;
6. for city incorporation, whether incorporation of a new city is the only means by which residents of the territory can receive essential municipal services;
7. for city annexation, whether the jurisdictional boundaries of an existing city are being enlarged rather than promoting the incorporation of a new city or creation of a new borough service area;
8. for city merger or consolidation, whether the merged or consolidated city minimizes the number of local government units;
9. for city detachment, whether the detached area, by itself, is likely to be incorporated as a new city.

Many standards list factors that the commission may consider as guidelines in evaluating the overall standard. The word “may” indicates that it is optional for the commission to consider those factors. The petitioner is not required to address every “may” factor. Neither the LBC nor the petitioner is limited to only those factors.
