I do not support Huna's application as presented. Gustavus is a young city and as such needs time to mature to develop our own borough. Being surrounded by Huna will eliminate that option and we will never be able to monetize a borough or support our school. Huna already has a first class city and a city school. Huna has a deep port with capability for cruise ships. They are already taxing them. They have an impressive cruise based economy, one that Gustavus could never match. They don't need to tax marine - based activities that leave out of Gustavus and Bartlett Cove.

Respectfully
