2014 Webinars

MIA will host five webinars that should prove to be of great value to many of our permit holders. Our past webinars have been helpful to permit holders and other business people who have participated. There is no charge to participate. All that is needed to participate is a computer and internet access of average or better speed. Reservations are needed as we must send participants an access code and instructions.

We utilize "Go to Meeting" software and will provide the software required to participate. Participants will be able to ask questions and hear the answers.

2014 Webinars

Wednesday, January 22 – 2014 Color Forecast

By Dana Reese of the Made in Alaska Program

Using the “IN” colors for your product can lead to a huge increase in sales. Dana thoroughly researches and updates her information annually on the colors that are expected to be the most relevant in the New Year. This webinar is becoming a tradition with MIA permit holders for a fun discussion and the insight that leads to extra profit.

Wednesday, February 19 – Packaging and Presentation of Products

By Jon Thompson & Dana Hahn of West Coast Paper Solutions

How you package and present your product is often as important as the product itself. Alaska’s typical low volume and extraordinary shipping needs and costs complicate the problems. Two of the most experienced people in the paper industry will explain and suggest ideas for how you can package and market your products better while staying within budget. Whether you need boxes, jars, bags, or other custom-designed packaging, Jon and Dana have the experience, inventory, and fresh ideas you need to set your product apart from the competition.

Wednesday, March 5 – Webinar TBD

Wednesday, March 26 – Booth Merchandising and Lighting

By Bruce Baker, a Vermont business vendor, author and speaker

We are thrilled to have Bruce Baker again share his experience and wisdom at this webinar on creating a successful booth in a consumer show. Bruce will emphasize the importance of lighting and make suggestions on affordable ways to achieve a well-lit and eye-catching booth without busting your budget.

Wednesday, April 9 – Where Do Small Business Websites Stand In 2014?

By David Taylor, small business owner SUGARSLED and UAA Professor

The Internet has drastically altered the way in which information is shared, and has had a profound impact on marketing. Tune in and learn from Professor David Taylor the current website marketing trends that will help you increase profit and sustainability.

All webinars begin at 1:00 PM and will last about an hour. These webinars are rare opportunities to participate in a public meeting while relaxing at home. For more information, contact Dana Reese at (907)272-5634 or email madeinalaska@anchoragemarkets.com.

20-Year Anniversary: Alaska Black Diamond

Alaska Black Diamond holds MIA permit #245, making the company one of MIA's most senior permit holders. With an initial join date of March 26, 1994, Alaska Black Diamond will observe its 20th anniversary in the MIA Program this coming March.

In 2001, Alaska Black Diamond received the MIA Manufacturer of the Year award as a result of their business success, work ethic, and contributions to the state's economy and their local community of Ketchikan.

Alaska Black Diamond began business in 1989. Owned and operated by Patrick Moore and his wife Tedi Brown, the company was started because of their love of wood carving and the Alaskan culture. Alaska Black Diamond's carving operation is located on Princess Island and their finishing/shipping operation is located in Ward Cove. The couple recently co-wrote the book Potlatch Legends, the story behind Potlatch Totem Park in Ketchikan, Alaska.

Alaska Black Diamond produces quality hand-carved and finished totem poles and plaques that can be purchased from higher-end galleries throughout Alaska. Alaska Black Diamond's authentic totem poles are carefully crafted using traditional yellow cedar wood grown deep in the rain forests of Southeast Alaska, and they are hand painted. Alaska Black Diamond totem poles are very popular collectables purchased by Alaska's tourists and residents.

Alaska Black Diamond employs eight full-time employees and about six part-time employees to keep up with the demand for their totem poles. The company's longevity and success is due to the talents and work ethic of their long-term employees. Turnover is very low, and some employees have been with them for many years. These loyal and talented employees, along with Patrick and Tedi, have built an Alaska business from a traditional art and Alaskan lifestyle. Contact them at: abdtotems@yahoo.com or (907)225-0294
