Insulfoam Manufacturer of the Year 2009

On March 31, 2010 the prestigious Made In Alaska Manufacturer of the Year Award for 2009 was presented to long time Made in Alaska permit holder, Insulfoam. The award was presented by Commissioner Emil Notti, Department of Commerce, Community and Economic Development, and accepted by Daryl Sobek, General Manager of Insulfoam.

Insulfoam was selected as Manufacturer of the year for providing high quality products for Alaska's construction and remodeling industries that successfully compete with lower quality and cheaper products made outside; thus, providing jobs for many Alaskans.

Insulfoam has been manufacturing high-performance insulation foam at their Anchorage facility since 1973 and has been a Made In Alaska permit holder since the program's start. They've reinvested in Alaska numerous times.

Insulfoam is widely used in Alaska for numerous commercial, industrial and residential applications such as road & highway base, railroad base, plazas & parking structures, ice rinks, drill pads and mud pits, waterlines & septic systems, foundations, roof & wall insulation due to its many advantages. Insulfoam possesses great thermal properties that allow it to remain stable over its entire service-life versus the rapid deterioration of insulation value in competitors' products. Insulfoam is environmentally friendly; the product contains no formaldehyde or ozone-depleting substances. Insulfoam is water-resistant; it does not readily absorb moisture from the environment, which makes it highly desirable for road and runway underlay. Insulfoam is locally produced providing reduced lead times and freight costs.

Insulfoam is accepted and used by numerous Alaskan institutions and public companies. Some entities of note are: FHWA, Alaska DOT, Army Corps of Engineers, Municipality of Anchorage, Mat-Su Borough, Conoco Phillips, Alyeska, AWWU, and FAA.

To date, the company employs 17 full time year round employees and an additional 18-20 Alaskans during the summer construction season. Many of the employees have worked for Insulfoam since the company's start.

Insulfoam is a great example of how the Alaska economy benefits from local businesses, by providing high quality affordable products for local use while generating in-state jobs. Congratulations to Insulfoam on receiving the Made In Alaska Manufacturer of the Year Award! We appreciate your hard work.

Workshops and Webinars 2010

The 2010 Made In Alaska workshops were held in 7 cities throughout Alaska including Kodiak, Wasilla, Homer, Soldotna, Glennallen, Delta Junction, and Fairbanks. Each workshop was a great success and a lot of fun. Numerous attendees showed up for each workshop, consisting of both Made In Alaska permit holders and non Made In Alaska permit holders interested in the several business topics presented. Attendees gained an abundant amount of business information on marketing, direct mail campaigns, online media, and digital photography. Furthermore, the workshops provided a great opportunity for attendees to meet and network with other small business owners in their community.

Thank you to all the workshop participants, it was a great opportunity for the Made In Alaska program to meet some of its permit holders and see and photograph their products.

Dana Reese, Program Administrator
Olya Semiryazhko, Administrative Coordinator
Bill Webb, Program Manager

On April 14, 2010 from 1:00-2:00pm Bill Webb will be presenting a webinar on Product Distribution in Alaska. Please email dana@anchoragemarkets.com if you would like to participated in Made In Alaska's last webinar of the season.

Alaska Showcase 2010

On February 16, 2010 the Made In Alaska program held Alaska Showcase 2010 at the Dena'ina Civic & Convention Center in an attempt to introduce buyers and managers of large chain retailers in Alaska to Made In Alaska, Silver Hand and Alaska Grown permit holders and their products in hopes that more Alaskan Made products would be added to the shelves of local chain retail stores. Governor Parnell and his staff assisted Made In Alaska in this effort by sending out a personal invitation from the Governor to numerous buyers and managers of retailers. Included were Costco, Sam's Club, Kohl's, Fred Meyers, Home Depot, Three Bears, Holland America, New Sagayas, Wal-Mart, Target, Home Depot, Three Bears, and several more.

Unfortunately, even with Governor Parnell's personal invitation many of the buyers failed to attend Alaska Showcase 2010. A lot of work, time and effort were put into making this show a success by both participating permit holders and Made In Alaska's staff.

Alaska Showcase 2010 consisted of 48 Made In Alaska permit holders offering a wide variety of unique and high quality products. According to an initial vendor survey many participants very much liked the atmosphere, cost, and the goal of the show. Although, the majority of the participants didn't make a sale at the event, many made good contacts and learned what some chains wanted. Others did make sales. Made In Alaska will follow up with these chains as well as existing wholesale shows to make sure Made In Alaska permit holders and big chain buyers continue to be able to meet each other and do business together.

We thank all who participated in Alaska Showcase 2010.

Got Made In Alaska Labels and Stickers?

Summer is just about here and if you're planning to participate in any of Alaska's many summer events you might want to double check and make sure you're stocked up on low cost Made In Alaska stickers, cloth labels, and FREE point of sale items, posters and decals.

Don't let any of your certified Made In Alaska products leave your hands without displaying that sale inviting mother bear and cub logo that shoppers, both local and visiting, look for and love. It does help, in a big way, to sell your product.

To order Made In Alaska stickers, cloth labels, and point of sale items please fill out the Made In Alaska –Label Order Form, located on the last page, and send it in with payment. Or feel free to call us at 272-5634 with your order and a credit card number.

“Look for the Label” Campaign

the label*

This summer we will again provide an advertising campaign for the Made In Alaska program. We are reaching out across the state to make visitors and residents aware of the Made In Alaska program. The campaign will include eight full weeks of advertising in the six largest newspapers (by distribution) in the State; Anchorage Daily News, Fairbanks Daily News-Miner, Juneau Empire, Ketchikan Daily News, Sitka Sentinel, Peninsula Clarion.
