INTRODUCTION

AS 40.21: Management & Preservation of Public Records

AS 40.21 requires the orderly management of current local public records and preservation of noncurrent public records that have permanent historical value. AS 40.21.070 says “the governing body of each political subdivision of the state shall promote the principles of efficient records management for local public records...” Moreover, per AS 29.20.380(4) the municipal clerks shall “manage municipal records and develop retention schedules and procedures for inventory, storage and destruction of records.” The Model General Schedule is a tool municipal clerks and other officials (AS 40.21.080) may utilize to assist in determining how long to retain records created or received in the conduct of their respective responsibilities.

Purpose of the *Model General Schedule

The purpose of this Model General Schedule is to list and describe common records series that Alaskan local governments (including cities/boroughs, villages, districts, authorities, other political subdivisions) administer and to recommend minimum retention periods. The Model General Schedule is meant to be a guide only - each governing body should inventory its records and develop its own fully approved Records & Information Management Service that addresses each locality’s unique requirements. As a result of such a service, unneeded documents may be discarded and less active records may be transferred to cheaper offsite storage, freeing up prime office space.

What is the Goal of a Records and Information Management Service?

The goal of a Records and Information Management program is to retrieve the right information at the right time. An effective program ensures that local government staff has the recorded information necessary to perform its statutory and regulatory functions, avoid waste and preserve the documentary heritage of the community.

What is a Record?

A record is any media that captures, preserves or disseminates information; or, documents that are created or received during the course of an organization’s official business and preserved or appropriate for preservation by an agency or a political subdivision as evidence of the organization, function, policies, decisions, procedures, operations, or other activities of the state or political subdivision or because of the informational value in them [refer to AS 40.21.150(5 & 6).]

Local Government Model General Administrative Records Retention Schedule
#300.1

What Types of Media Are Included?

Records herein referenced may be contained on a variety of media, including, but not limited to: paper, microfilm, analog cassette/video tapes, maps, drawings, photographs, magnetic tapes/disks, digitized video files, and optical disks. Additionally, information sets (e.g. email, datasets, metadata) stored in document management systems may have record status and require retention to meet administrative, legal or financial needs. Regardless of media utilized, the "Official Record Copy" must be maintained by the local governing body long enough to meet these considerations.

What Are The Four Values of Records That Impact Retention?

Administrative/ Operational: These records are needed for current operations of the agency.

Financial: Financial records document fiscal transactions needed for tax and audit purposes.

Legal: Records with legal value document the rights of citizens or employees or pertain to contractual obligations.

Historical: Records have historical value if they document policies, procedures or historical activities.

GLOSSARY

Business Essential Records:	Records containing information that is essential to the continuing operation or survival of the department. These records should be managed in a way to ensure their survival in the event of a disaster e.g. a fire or flood.
Disposition:	The process where a record is either destroyed or transferred to an archives as prescribed by a records retention schedule.
Duplicates:	Duplicate records are all other copies of a record not considered to be the Official Record Copy. In essence this means that if your department does not hold the Official Record Copy, you hold a duplicate copy and must retain this duplicate for the prescribed period of time as stated in the records retention schedule.
Official Record Copy:	The Official Record Copy refers to the copy of the record that must be retained to fulfill all its legal responsibilities and must be retained for the total retention period stated.
Records Series:	A group of alike records filed together by their content e.g. reading files.
Retention:	This refers to the length of time that records need to be kept for.

GUIDE TO ADOPTING THE *MODEL GENERAL SCHEDULE

This is intended as a model schedule and contains recommendations for the minimum retention periods. This is a guide as to the issues that you need to consider when adopting this schedule for your own use.

1. Decide whether all the records series listed in the Model General Schedule cover all the records that you hold. If not, then add them and decide how long they are to be kept.
2. Decide whether you are going to accept and use the suggested retention periods. If not, why not? Then decide on a period that is appropriate to you and is justifiable.
3. Identify records that are business essential (see Glossary).
4. Identify whether a department holds an "Official Record Copy" and if so how long "duplicates" need to be kept for. (See Glossary for definitions)
5. Identify a secure location for records that have been identified as having "permanent" historical value.
