In closing, with Parliamentary Procedure, your organization can get things done

- Make Motions that are in order
- Obtain the floor properly
- Speak clearly and concisely
- Obey the rules of debate

And, above all, be courteous! That’s always in Order.
Parliamentary Procedure 101: It’s History

In 1583, a formal statement of procedures was published for the House of Commons in England.

A handbook compiled by Thomas Jefferson in 1801 became the basis for the rules followed by the United States Congress.

When Henry Martyn Robert published his famous Rules of Order in 1876, he established a systematic method for organizing and conducting meetings.

Robert’s Rules of Order Newly Revised, 10th Edition, is now the basic manual of order for many private, civic, and governmental groups.

Parliamentary Procedure is a set of rules for conducting business at meetings and public gatherings.
Motions can be changed through amendment. Amendments can be used to change wording and must relate to the subject of the main motion.

Most motions only need a majority vote (more than half) of the members in attendance. Motions concerning the rights of the body or its members need a two-thirds vote.

A reconsideration must come from the winning side of the vote. Reconsideration provides additional debate, a re-vote, thus providing members a chance to change their minds.

It's important for everyone to be aware of these rules.
Parliamentary Procedure 103: The Agenda

I. Call to Order
A quorum (number or percentage of members necessary for business to be conducted) must be present. The Chair (person conducting the meeting) says “The meeting now comes to order.”

II. Minutes
The secretary of the organization reads the minutes from the last meeting.

III. Officers’ Reports
Usually the treasurer gives their report, but others may also.

IV. Committee Reports
Permanent (standing) committees, then special (temporary) committees give reports to the body.

V. Special Orders
Important business previously designated for consideration at the current meeting.

VI. Unfinished Business
Business that was not concluded at a previous meeting.

VII. New Business
Portion of the meeting where new items are introduced.

VIII. Announcements
Information is provided to the people at the meeting (assembly) regarding various items and or events.

IX. Adjournment
This is where the meeting ends, either through vote or general consent. The chair can also adjourn the meeting if arranged by a previous vote.

Parliamentary Procedure 109: More Information

Is the Motion in Order?
- The motion must relate to the business at hand.
- It must be presented at the right time.
- It must not be used to obstruct or be frivolous.
- The motion must not be against the body’s bylaws or ordinances.

Allowable interruption of speakers
- Only when the motion is so important that interruption is necessary to make the motion.
- The original speaker then regains the floor when the interruption has been attended to.

Second of Motions
- A second of a motion usually means another member would like to consider the motion.
- It discourages motions that have the interest of only one member.

Debates
- Parliamentary procedure ensures the right for the body to have a free and full debate on most motions.
- Only a few subsidiary, privileged, and incidental motions do not have debate.
Parliamentary Procedure 108:
There’s more on Voting?

Pending motions have been stated but not voted on.
The last motion declared by the chair is the first motion pending.
The main motion is always the last motion voted on.

Motion to “Postpone to time certain”

- Used to temporarily take care of more important matters.
- This should not be used to prevent discussion or permanently prevent a vote.
- This can also be used for a motion for reconsideration if the reconsideration is requested by the end of the current or the next meeting.

Motion to postpone indefinitely

- This allows members to avoid a motion without a vote for or against the motion.
- This is used in situations where a “yes” or “no” vote on a motion may have unwanted consequences.

Voting: Means by which motions are accepted or rejected by the group

Parliamentary Procedure 104:
Motions

Motions are proposals where the body takes a stand or action regarding an issue. Members of the body may:

- Present motions (offer a proposal)
- Second motions (support another’s motion for discussion)
- Debate motions (everyone is allowed to give their opinion on the motion)
- Vote on motions (the board makes a decision)
Parliamentary Procedure 105: Types of Motions

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Category</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Main</td>
<td>Main Motions introduce an item for the board to consider. Each main motion must wait for the previous main motion to be completed.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Subsidiary</td>
<td>Subsidiary Motions amend the main motion. Subsidiary motions are voted on before the vote on the main motion.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Privileged</td>
<td>Privileged Motions relate to particular or important items. Generally, they are considered before other motions. An example would be a motion for adjournment.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Incidental</td>
<td>Incidental Motions are procedural questions arising from other motions. These must be dealt with before votes on the original motion.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Reconsideration</td>
<td>Reconsideration motions bring a question again before the body. Generally, reconsideration motions are made while no business is pending.</td>
</tr>

Parliamentary Procedure 107: Methods on Voting on a Motion

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Method</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Voice</td>
<td>The Chair may request a voice vote by Yes (in favor) and No (in opposition). A member can move for an exact count. Voice voting is for majority votes only.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Roll Call</td>
<td>If a record of individual votes is required, when a member’s name is called, they respond “yes,” “no,” or “abstain” (if they are choosing not to vote).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>General Consent</td>
<td>If the chair believes the motion will not be opposed, he/she declares “if there is no objection...” Members show support by not opposing the motion.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Show of Hands</td>
<td>Members raise their hands to verify a voice vote, or as an alternative to it. This does not require a count. A member may move for an exact count.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Ballot</td>
<td>Members write their vote on a slip of paper.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Secret Ballot</td>
<td>This is done when secrecy is desired.</td>
</tr>

Parliamentary Procedure 106: Presenting a Motion, continued from page 6

The Chair repeats your motion:

- The chair MUST repeat the motion saying “It is moved and seconded . . .”
- After the motion is stated by the chair, discussion and/or voting can occur.
- The motion is now property of the board/assembly and you cannot change it without consent.

Expanding on the motion:

- As the member who made the motion, you will be allowed to speak first.
- All comments must be directed to the chair.
- Respect the time limits on speaking.
- You may be provided with a second opportunity to speak after all others have spoken on the motion.
- You may be provided a third opportunity by a motion to suspend the rules with a two-thirds vote.

Calling the question by the Chair:

- The chair will state “Are you ready for the question?”
- If no further debate is requested, or if the motion to stop debate is adopted, a vote is taken.
- The chair declares the result.

First, obtain the floor:

- Wait for the previous speaker to finish.
- Stand and address the chair saying “Mr./Madam Chairperson/President.
- State your name, spelling your last name if requested by the chair, and waiting to be recognized by the chair.

Make your motion:

- Speak in a clear and concise voice.
- Your motion needs to be in the affirmative. Example “I move that the board . . .”. Not “I move that the board does not . . .”
- Keep to the subject of the motion and away from personal attacks.

Wait for a second on your motion:

- A separate member must say, “I second the motion.”
- Or, in other instances, the chair will request (call) a second.
- If no other member seconds the motion, it will not be considered.
- Motions called at the request of the board or committee do not require a second.
