12 AAC 44.020. TYPES OF PROGRAM APPROVAL. (a) Full approval is granted to a nursing education program that has met the requirements set out in 12 AAC 44.010 – 12 AAC 44.140.
   (b) Provisional approval may be granted to a nursing education program that has not been in operation long enough to meet the requirements set out in 12 AAC 44.010 – 12 AAC 44.140. A nursing education program that is granted provisional approval may conduct the program and offer nursing classes and clinical instruction until the board's final decision on the program's application for full approval under 12 AAC 44.040.
   (c) Conditional approval is granted to a nursing education program as described in 12 AAC 44.055.

12 AAC 44.030. SURVEY. (a) The completed application for provisional approval must be submitted to the board when the nursing education program is ready for a survey visit.
(b) A survey of each nursing education program, including affiliations and statewide facilities, is required for the purpose of provisional approval and full approval. The survey must be made by one or more representatives of the board, and may include an educational consultant, as designated by the board.

(c) Each nursing education program shall permit periodic surveys by the board or its designated representative for the purpose of determining compliance with educational program standards. Each nursing education program shall permit a representative of the board to be included in national accreditation survey visits.

(d) Prior to a survey visit, specific information will be requested by the board.

(e) Repealed 4/2/86.

(f) For purposes of this section, a survey is an evaluation of all aspects of the proposed or existing program, including faculty credentials and facilities. A survey may include site inspections of the program's facilities.

12 AAC 44.040. ESTABLISHMENT OF NURSING EDUCATION PROGRAM. (a) A university or college wishing to establish a nursing education program must

(1) inform the board in writing of the university or college's intent to establish a nursing education program in the state; and

(2) submit, not later than 120 days before the first day of the board meeting at which the application is considered, a completed application on a form prescribed by the board that shows that the applicant meets the applicable requirements of 12 AAC 44.030 – 12 AAC 44.135.

(b) There shall be information on the availability of clinical facilities and job opportunities for graduates.

(c) Not later than 90 days after receipt of the application, the board or the board's representative will advise the applicant in writing, before consideration by the board, whether additional information is needed to complete the application.

(d) If the board determines that the application is complete and that the nursing education program meets the applicable requirements of 12 AAC 44.010 – 12 AAC 44.135, the board will grant provisional approval to the program.

(e) Not later than 90 days after the board grants provisional approval, the nursing education program must apply for national accreditation from either the Accreditation Commission for Education in Nursing (ACEN), National League for Nursing Accrediting Commission (NLNAC), or the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE).

(f) After the survey under 12 AAC 44.030 has been completed, the board will notify the program if the board has determined that

(1) the program has deficiencies due to noncompliance with any provision of 12 AAC 44.010 – 12 AAC 44.135; and

(2) a follow-up survey, conducted as set out in 12 AAC 44.030, is necessary.

(g) If the board determines that deficiencies exist under (f)(1) of this section, the board or the board's representative will send the nursing education program written notice of the deficiencies. The program shall correct those deficiencies and, not later than 90 days after the date the board sent written notice of the deficiencies, shall notify the board of the program's progress in correcting them. The program, after sending the first progress report, shall send additional reports every 90 days until each deficiency is corrected.

(h) A nursing education program whose application has been denied under this section may request a hearing under AS 44.62.330 – 44.62.630 (Administrative Procedure Act) to appeal the denial.

(j) A nursing education program with provisional approval shall provide to the board a copy of each interim report that the program receives from the Accreditation Commission for Education in Nursing, National League for Nursing Accrediting Commission, or the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education accrediting agency.

(k) Eighteen months after the board grants a nursing education program provisional approval, the board or the board's representative will conduct another survey of the program under 12 AAC 44.030.

(l) To receive full approval from the board, a nursing education program must

(1) be fully accredited by the Accreditation Commission for Education in Nursing, National League for Nursing Accrediting Commission, or the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education; and

(2) attain an 80 percent pass rate for first-time NCLEX test takers for a full year.

(m) If a nursing education program does not attain full accreditation two years after the graduation of the program's first class or earlier, the program may request a one-time, two-year extension of provisional approval. The board will grant the extension if the board determines that the program is making sufficient progress towards full accreditation.
(n) Notwithstanding (f) of this section, the board may withdraw provisional approval at any time if a program deficiency puts the public at risk. Deficiencies that put the public at risk include

1. a decline in the pass rate for first-time NCLEX test takers;
2. high student attrition rates;
3. a reversal of progress toward accreditation; and
4. significant faculty attrition.

Within 90 days after receipt of a letter of concern from the board, the approved nursing education program must submit to the board a report that

1. analyzes the factors that are believed to be contributing to the low pass rate; and

A program offering the practical nurse certificate will be reevaluated one year after the letter of warning was issued. A program offering the associate degree or the baccalaureate degree in nursing will be reevaluated two years after the letter of warning was issued.

(f) If an approved nursing education program reevaluated by the board after the time period specified in (e) of this section has failed to achieve at least an 80 percent cumulative annual pass rate, the board will place the nursing education program on conditional approval. The nursing education program will continue on conditional approval until

1. the nursing education program has achieved at least an 80 percent cumulative annual pass rate during two consecutive years; or
2. approval of the nursing education program is revoked under 12 AAC 44.052.

(g) As used in this section, "at least an 80 percent cumulative annual pass rate" means that the year-end data published by the National Council of State Boards of Nursing (NCSBN) shows that at least 80 percent of the graduates of the approved nursing education program, taking the National Council Licensure Examination (NCLEX) for the first time, successfully passed the examination.

(f) If an approved certified nurse aide training program reevaluated by the board under (e) of this section has failed to achieve at least an 80 percent cumulative annual pass rate, the board will place the certified nurse aide training program on conditional approval. The certified nurse aide training program will continue on conditional approval until
1. the certified nurse aide training program has achieved at least an 80 percent cumulative annual pass rate during two consecutive years; or
2. approval of the certified nurse aide training program is withdrawn under 12 AAC 44.862.
(g) For purposes of this section, a certified nurse aide training program achieves at least an 80 percent cumulative annual pass rate if the year-end data shows that at least 80 percent of the graduates of the approved nurse aide training program, taking the National Nurse Aide Assessment Program competency evaluation for the first time, successfully passed that competency evaluation.

If the board withdraws approval of the training program the board will notify the program provider in writing, indicating the reasons for the action.

(d) The provider of a certified nurse aide training program for which approval has been withdrawn may request a hearing under AS 44.62.330 – 44.62.630 (Administrative Procedure Act) to appeal the withdrawal of program approval.

(1) the patient’s informed consent to use telehealth technologies;
(2) a clinical history and review of systems establishing diagnoses and identifying conditions and contraindications to recommended treatment; and
