DBA: Fiori D'Italia

AMCO Case #: 23-1426

An administrative notice of violation addresses serious or repetitive violations of AS 04, 3 AAC 305, or other law relating to the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages that have occurred or are occurring on the licensed premises.

Note: This is not an accusation or a criminal complaint.

On 7-20-23, AMCO received information asserting that Ylli Ferati, bartender at your establishment and your son, sold an unopened 750ml bottle of Rabbit Hole Cavehill whiskey to a customer for off-premises consumption. The sale occurred on 7-14-23 and the amount charged was $70. Ylli does not dispute that the transaction took place on the Beverage Dispensary licensed premises. He also does not dispute it was unlawful to do so. Following a request for production of records, a review of October 23 guest receipts revealed a suspect transaction for $150. The order for the transaction stated it was for a Tomahawk Dinner and was identified as a food purchase, not an alcoholic beverage purchase. A Tomahawk Dinner is not on Fiori D'Italia's pre-printed menu. Nor is it a known special. AMCO contacted the patron who was billed for the Tomahawk Dinner. He stated he did have dinner at the establishment and that he also bought a bottle of "their" brand, which he took with him unopened when he left. Within ten minutes, the customer called the investigator back and stated that the $150 was for a whiskey tasting event, not a take-home purchase that evening.

Your attention is directed to

AS 04.16.170 crime of sale of alcoholic beverages from or to an unlicensed person, a Class A misdemeanor

AS 04.16.1.030: Responsibility of licensees, employees, and agents

and

AS 04.16.150: Licensee responsible for violations

A licensee, endorsement holder, any affiliate, or conditional contractor permittee who receives an administrative notice of violation may also request an appearance before the director regarding the administrative notice of violation. The request must be made not more than 10 days after the licensee, endorsement holder, or conditional contractor permittee receives the notice. The director shall grant an appearance not more than 10 days after the request is received.

AMCO Case #23-1426

Mr. J. Hamilton,

This letter is in response to your letter, which I received on Monday, March 11th, 2024, regarding AMCO Case #23-1426.

I understand the seriousness of your investigation and I do not take this lightly. Therefore, given the omission of information in your notice, your investigation conducted to date, and how you have framed your notice, I'm requesting an appearance before the director, Ms. Joan Wilson, regarding this administrative notice of violation. There are a number of items I'd like to clarify with the director. Per your letter, I understand that my request must be granted not more than 10 days after this request is received. I'd ask the director to please schedule this meeting on a Monday or a Tuesday as those are the days my restaurant is closed. If this cannot be accommodated, I'd ask for an early morning meeting as my restaurant opens at 4pm but requires hours of prep work by me.

During your initial investigation visit to my restaurant, you made several claims against my business. As I noted to you then, I do not sell unopened or opened bottles at Fiori for off-premise consumption. In fact, during your initial investigation visit to my restaurant, my wife pointed out that you had recently dined at our restaurant with a guest. Your guest tried to purchase the bottle of alcohol that was used to make his cocktail and take home with him at the end of dinner. My wife told your guest no (in your presence). When my wife recounted this interaction, you told her "you have a good memory". My wife further questioned if AMCO still conducts "sting operations" and you told her no. My wife and I were both confused as the interaction she described with you and your guest seems like a sting operation, especially if the guest of an AMCO investigator is clearly asking something that is not allowed.

Nonetheless, I've provided initial responses to statements made in your notice.

Statement #1: On 7-20-23, AMCO received information asserting that Ylli Ferati, bartender at your establishment and your son, sold an unopened 750ml bottle of Rabbit Hole Cavehill whiskey to a customer for off-premises consumption.

Ylli is an employee of Fiori D'Italia. I'm not sure I understand the relevance of "and your son" in your letter. My employees at Fiori are held to the same standards, regardless of familial status. Fiori is a business I have built alongside my wife so we treat our employees as professionals of Fiori.

I understand that the information AMCO received was from a guest check for Jim Arlington. Mr. Arlington, at the time you received your information, was Business Development and Marketing Director for Afognak/Brown Jug. Afognak is the owner of Brown Jug, the largest liquor store in Alaska. It should be noted that Ylli is a partial owner of Allocated, a liquor store in Anchorage. It's fair to say these two businesses are competitors.

Statement #2: The sale occurred on 7-14-23 and the amount charged was $74.99. Ylli does not dispute that the transaction took place on the Beverage Dispensary licensed premises. He also does not dispute it was unlawful to do so.

It's my understanding that Mr. Arlington purchased the bottle through Ylli's liquor store as demonstrated by the Allocated sales receipt Ylli provided me post your initial investigation visit. Further, I understand that on 7-14-23, Mr. Arlington received his bottle at my premise after his dinner. Per Ylli, I understand that Mr. Arlington noted to Ylli that he did not have cash for the bottle and insisted Ylli charge a credit card instead. Additionally, it's my understanding that Ylli pulled $75 from the Fiori petty cash drawer at the end of the night to reimburse his liquor store. This was a mistake, as this is not permitted, and a lapse in judgement on Ylli's part to charge the $74.99 on Fiori's credit card machine. During your initial investigation visit, you asked Ylli and myself if there was a motivation for Mr. Arlington's actions – we provided you answers. I'd like to provide additional information to the AMCO director on why Mr. Arlington targeted my employee and my business.

Nonetheless, post your initial investigation visit, I've added additional controls, such as removing the ability for employees to access petty cash, walking through large dollar amounts on tickets at the end of the night with staff, and additional trainings with my staff.

Statement #3: Following a request for production of records, a review of the October 23 guest receipts revealed a suspect transaction for $150. The order for the transaction stated it was for a Tomahawk Dinner and was identified as a food purchase, not an alcoholic beverage purchase. A Tomahawk Dinner is not on Fiori D'Italia's pre-printed menu. Nor is it a known special.

Post your review of ~two years worth of my previous records, you asked me multiple questions with regards to me selling Tomahawk steaks at Fiori. As I noted to you during your questioning, I've sold Tomahawk steaks in my restaurant as a special for years. Please see attached to this letter years of social media posts of my Tomahawk steaks. As such, I respectfully disagree with your assertion "nor is it a known special". This is a popular and known special when I make it available at my restaurant. Additionally, you questioned how I price my Tomahawk steaks, and I noted to you that I price them based on weight, attributes such as how 'aged' the steak is, and sides included with the steak. You noted this seemed odd even though this is a restaurant standard, and further, there are restaurants in Anchorage that charge "market price" for their steaks, meaning the price of a steak can fluctuate on any given day.

Statement #4: AMCO contacted the patron who was billed for the Tomahawk Dinner. He stated he did have dinner at the establishment and that he also bought a bottle of "their brand", which he took with him unopened when he left. Within ten minutes, the customer called the investigator back and stated the $150 was for a whiskey tasting event, not a take-home purchase that evening.

With regards to the specific review of the October 23 receipt, there is misinformation on what was drafted as your finding. The $150 was for a dinner event. The patron you mention is willing to 'testify' to clarify any information. Please see attached to this letter a time stamped picture of the patron at the dinner event.

Further, it's my understanding the patron has never left Fiori's premises with an unopened bottle. The patron has stated that when he was contacted by AMCO, your investigator was not clear to say 'Fiori, the restaurant', or 'Ylli's liquor store, Allocated'. Again, Ylli is an employee of Fiori and is a partial owner of Allocated – my customers frequently associate the two with each other. Additionally, I hold events in partnership with Allocated.

Mr. Hamilton, I hope the above provides further clarity into your investigation. I'd like to reiterate some of the comments I made to you during your initial investigation visit. I've been a restaurant owner and licensee in Anchorage for over 30 years. In those 30+ years, I've had zero infractions on my license. Since 1995, Fiori has been in Spenard – a neighborhood that has, unfortunately, been synonymous with crime. However, I've done my part to make Fiori a positive – not only for the Spenard community – but the Anchorage community as well. In fact, I implore you to seek Anchorage Police Department complaint records – you will not find anything alcohol-related with regards to Fiori.

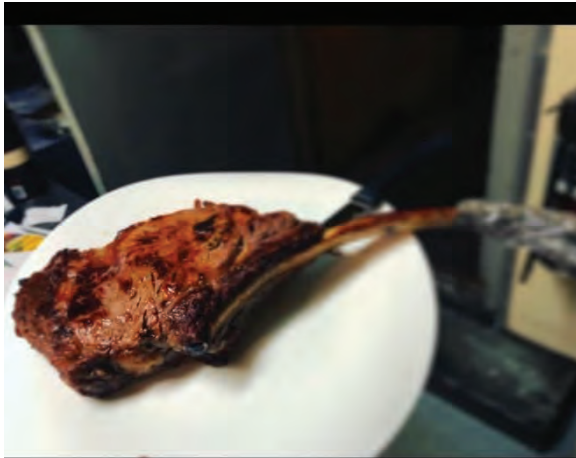

Lastly, since you've launched your investigation, I've experienced increased levels of harassment towards my business, including, but not limited to:

- A patron, in front of other customers at my bar, mockingly asserting "I hear AMCO is investigating you, [redacted name – to be discussed with AMCO director] tells me"
- Ylli having lunch at a restaurant in Anchorage and the individual sitting next to him smirking "I hear you are having troubles with AMCO. [redacted name – to be discussed with AMCO director] is proud that he was able to set you up and get AMCO to initiate an investigation"

I'm looking forward to meeting with the AMCO director to discuss this matter and provide further information outside this letter.

Regards,
Ulber Ferati

MEAN QUEEN

June 23, 2026

Hello,

This letter is in response to a Notice of Violation, AMCO case number 26-1145. It was issued following a June 2, 2026 inspection of the Mean Queen, Beverage Dispensary License number 2786.

At the time of inspection I freely admitted to Investigator Hamilton my ignorance of the Labor regulations requiring anyone working at Mean Queen to be at least 16 years old. He thoroughly explained the regulations and answered all of my questions. I paid the $500 citation the day it was filed with the court.

Following his visit I have further familiarized myself with the regulations and will make sure going forward that we do not have any one working for us under the age of 16. I have added a box to our job application requesting date of birth for anyone under 18, and have created hiring packets to insure that all necessary paperwork is completed for new hires. Our employees have been made aware of the regulations and will keep them in mind when recruiting applicants.

Please feel free to call me on my personal phone, 907-752-0500, if there are any questions.

Best regards,

Mary Magnuson

Re: AMCO Case #26-1541
License #2915

Dear Alcohol & Marijuana Control Office,

This letter is in response to the Notice of Violation dated July 7, 2026.

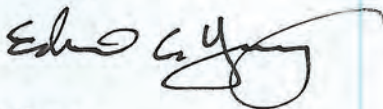

After the inspection on July 1, we immediately removed both A. Potter and A. Jernigan from serving alcoholic beverages. They did not resume serving until they had successfully completed the required Alaska TAP training. Copies of their temporary certificates of completion are attached. The permanent Alcohol Server Education cards have not yet been received.

To prevent this from happening again, we have taken the following steps:

- Verified the expiration dates of all current employees' Alcohol Server Education cards.
- Created a tracking system listing the expiration date of each server's Alcohol Server Education card and established a quarterly review to verify all certifications remain current.
- Employees whose Alcohol Server Education cards are approaching expiration will be notified by management and required to renew before they are permitted to serve alcohol.
- Updated our hiring procedures to verify that all servers have a current Alcohol Server Education card before serving alcohol, including returning seasonal employees.

We take our responsibilities under Alaska's alcohol laws seriously and are committed to ensuring all employees serving alcohol maintain current certification.

Sincerely,

Ed Young

Re: Tracking Number 7021 0950 0001 6766 9247

For: Beverage Dispensary License 2988

<Submitted Physically and Electronically>

To Whom It May Concern:

We are writing in response to AMCO's notice of violation dated June 15, 2026 which we received on June 18, 2026. As we understand it, the NOV alleges F. Scott and Ernest LLC, dba Little Italy, violated AS 04.16.052(a)(2) because it allowed minors to work on the premises without satisfying the exemption contained in AS 04.16.049(c), which allows minors to work on the premises only if: "(1) the employment does not involve the serving, mixing, delivering, or dispensing of alcoholic beverages; (2) the person has the written consent of a parent or guardian; and (3) an exemption from the prohibition of AS 23.10.355 is granted by the Department of Labor and Workforce Development."

First, we assure AMCO we take this NOV seriously, and will ensure controls are implemented to prevent any future violations of AS 04.16.052 or any other law.

As requested in the NOV, we are providing an explanation of actions we have, and are taking, to prevent any future violations of AS 04.16.052. Little Italy will continue its past and current policy of only allowing persons 18 or older and holding valid Training for Alcohol Professionals (TAP) cards to engage in serving, delivering, or dispensing alcoholic beverages, and only allowing persons 21 or older holding valid TAP cards to perform those duties as well as mixing alcoholic beverages. Little Italy will institute an additional control mechanism and require its employees to sign a form acknowledging only persons whose age is permitted by statute and who hold valid TAP cards may engage in serving, mixing, delivering, or dispensing alcoholic beverages, or face disciplinary action.

Little Italy currently has no employees under the age of 18. Little Italy understands that if it intends to employ persons aged 16 or 17, it must obtain written consent forms from their parents or guardians, as well as an exemption from the prohibition of AS 23.10.355 by the Department of Labor & Workforce Development before they may work on the premises. If it employs persons aged 16 or 17 in the future, Little Italy will ensure those persons do not serve, mix, deliver, or dispense alcoholic beverages through its current policy of allowing only those persons whose age is permitted by statute and who hold valid TAP cards to engage in those actions. Little Italy will institute additional record-keeping mechanisms, ensuring all requisite parental consent forms are on file at the premises, and that DOLWD has granted exemptions allowing persons aged 16 or 17 to work on the premises. Finally, Little Italy will not employ anyone under 16 years old.

We thank you for your time, and are available at your convenience for any questions or discussion on this matter.

Respectfully,

On 7-30-26, in conjunction with A Det. Sgt Trooper O. Modestoordonez, an underage compliance check was conducted at your establishment. Store clerk Stephanie R. Booth checked the underage persons vertically printed ID card and sold a 6-pk of 12-oz bottled Budweiser beer to the underage person. Ms. Booth stated she needed her eyes checked; she thought the DOB year was 2005, not the actual 2006. Ms. Booth stated she was within 30 days of beginning employment and currently did not possess a server education card. Ms. Booth was advised to send documentation to Inv. Hamilton by 8-3-24 to prove her training status. As of 8-4-26, she has not. Ms. Booth was issued citations for furnishing alcohol to a minor, $500.00 fine, and no proof of server education $250.00 fine. Good morning! I am truly sorry for this negligent oversight on our part, and back then when I was informed I was assured by Todd Staley who has been hired to be a cook at my restaurant in Kodiak AK and who apparently had to fill in as a server due to short staffing that he was taking all necessary steps to cure this oversight. Todd Staley does not work for us any more due to fishing. His employment duration was from May 1 to June 11 and received his first paycheck on 5/11 having worked as a cook and as a server. I will try to follow up with him through Rhea Hayes from Kodiak reentry on his whereabouts and situation as he is on probation. My mailing address is 1515 Baranof st Kodiak AK 99615 and my physical address -for my company Aquamarine LLC- is 508 W. Marine Way Kodiak AK 99615. I have relocated and been in Oregon since Feb of last year for my business and family matters here in Oregon and have left Abel Miranda managing the business while trying to sell or lease it. Thank you for advising, respectfully

This letter is being written in response to a notice of violation letter we received on 6/22/2026.

I believe the violation in Jasper Rodgers situation was cleared.

As far as the signage, we had a customer drive through the liquor store entrance in early March and destroy the corner of the building. All signs were destroyed. Construction was recently completed and new signs are now in place. If you have any questions, please feel free to reach out.

On 4-14-26, an inspection was conducted at your establishment. Contact was made with server T. Hopper. She was asked if any 16 or 17-year olds worked at the establishment and stated they had one recently who work two days to see if the person, (L.M.), was going to work out; or words to that effect. On 4-17-26, I requested via email for the scheduled two days L.M. worked and received a reply I would be emailed the approved permit, which I was. The permit was approved on 4-23-26, after the inspection. On 5-19-26, the licensee was sent and received via USPS a certified letter to produce documents related to L.M. or any other 16 or 17-year olds working. To this date, there has been no response.

Alright, as I should have done in the first place, I checked back with my crew and I was mistaken as to the trail work dates. Logan worked three (3) days prior to our getting the permit in place. He had a trial work day on Saturday April 11th and was invited back for an additional trial day on Sunday April 12th. I am not sure of how many hours were worked each day, but he was paid out for 11.5 hours combined for both days.

I believe you, or one of your investigators, came in Tuesday or Wednesday of the following week and informed our manager of the need for a work permit for anyone under the age of 18. As already noted below, we had the parents return a signed permit to us before his shift on April 19th, and then sent off the permit to the DOL on April 22nd, when I realized I had been mistaken about the permitting requirements. We received the approved permit back on April 23rd, which I have attached. It appears I mistakenly forwarded you a copy of the wrong image on that email thread, but you can see from the attached that the copy of the permit received from the DOL on the 23rd has the stamp and approval.

I apologize for the confusion, error, and delayed response to the inquiry. When I realized that we had not yet responded to your letter, I admittedly panicked a little and prioritized getting a response out to you rather than taking the time to confirm with my crew all the relevant details (which were a bit hazy as the run up from April to June is quite hectic for us). I instead just relied on the report from our POS, the attached email chain, and my distracted memory from that time.

I understand that my bungling of this response must be frustrating (and perhaps seem a bit nefarious). But never attribute to malice that which can be explained by incompetence, as they say.

I am sorry that we have not been more timely responsive and we should have been more diligent in understanding our obligations in regard to the permitting. The timing of our investigator was actually commented on at the time as being quite fortuitous as we might have remained unaware that we were out of compliance for a much more extended period of time without it.

Regardless, let me know what your two options are and we will discuss.

Best,

Scott

They were replaced by three stated mandated signs which had been shrunk to 8 1/2" x 11" and posted on the inside of the east and west entrance doors. Investigators volunteered to provide them new signs but were told by one of the servers they had them in the office to which the manager agreed they did. RE: Written Response and Corrective Action Plan — Notice Regarding Inspection of June 4, 2026

License Holder: Baleen Brewing Co.
License No(s): Brewery License Number 5883
Tasting Room /Retail Endorsement Number 16783
Premises: Ketchikan, Alaska
Reference: Notice dated July 3 2026 / Case No. [AMCO Case Number26-1214]

To the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board:

Thank you for your letter regarding the inspection conducted at Baleen Brewing Co. on June 4, 2026, which found that an employee was on the licensed premises without a valid TAP (Alcohol Server Education) card. I take this seriously and appreciate the opportunity to respond in writing and submit the corrective action plan requested below.

Circumstances

The employee involved is an Alaska state employee and a master's-prepared biologist working for Fish and Game. Given her professional background, I trusted that she would complete the required alcohol server education course and obtain her TAP card in the normal course of onboarding. That trust did not hold with respect to this specific requirement: she had not completed the course or obtained a valid card as of the date of inspection. This was a gap in our verification process rather than any intentional disregard of Alaska's server training requirements, and I want to be direct with the Board about that distinction. The employee has since voluntarily separated from employment with Baleen Brewing Co.

Corrective Action Plan

To reduce the risk of a recurrence, Baleen Brewing Co. is putting the following good-faith measures in place:

1. Compliance file: We are maintaining a dedicated file with a current copy of every employee's TAP card, tracked by issue and expiration date.

2. Renewal tracking: A calendar-based reminder system flags upcoming TAP card expirations (cards are valid for three years) well ahead of time so renewals can be completed before a card lapses.
3. Manager accountability: A designated manager is responsible for confirming and documenting TAP compliance for each staff member before that employee works an alcohol-service shift.
4. Staff review: We are reviewing Alaska's alcohol server training requirements with all current staff and are folding this review into onboarding for future hires.

We expect these measures to meaningfully reduce the likelihood of a recurrence, and we will keep refining our internal procedures as our operation grows. We remain committed to good-faith, ongoing compliance with Title 4 and AMCO's regulations.

We appreciate the Board's guidance in this matter and are glad to provide any additional information you may need. Please feel free to contact me directly with any questions.

Sincerely,

Alex MacGillivray
