To whom it may concern:

In regards to the above case number, the incidents that occurred were mostly clerical errors. We apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused. Upon this violation, what we found out is that we may have piled too much work onto one person, and a few mistakes were made in METRC by doing so. To remedy this situation, we will now have a small team of people being more involved in METRC and our point of sale inventory. This will establish tighter checks and balances to mitigate making any further mistakes. Not only will this spread the workload out, but we will be cross-checking/referencing all of the work being done before it is finalized. Please feel free to contact us at any time with any further questions or concerns.

Thank you for all you do,

-Gary Evans
