CARD FRONT

How to determine valid identification:

1. Check the age.
2. Check the date to ensure license is not expired.
3. Look at the photo and person and make sure they are similar.
4. Check for a hologram, although not all identification will have this feature.

Access IS restricted in a Marijuana Store:

(a) A person under 21 years of age may not enter a retail marijuana store.

(b) Each entry(way) to a retail marijuana store must be posted with a sign that says "No one under 21 years of age allowed." The sign must be not less than 12 inches long and 12 inches wide, with letters at least one-half inch in height in high contrast to the background of the sign.

A licensed retail store can refuse to sell marijuana or marijuana product to any consumer. 3 AAC 306.305.

How to intervene to prevent unlawful marijuana consumption:

1. Do not allow anyone to enter the premise without checking identification.

Recognize unlawful consumption and acquisition:

1. Marijuana can be addictive.
2. Marijuana is unsafe if you're behind the wheel.
3. Marijuana is linked to lower grades.
4. Marijuana is linked to some mental illnesses.

Marijuana can be addictive

Among youth receiving substance use disorder treatment, marijuana accounts for the largest percentage of admissions—about 55 percent among those 12 to 17 years old.

Marijuana is unsafe if you're behind the wheel

Marijuana impairs judgment and many other skills needed for safe driving: alertness, concentration, coordination, and reaction time.

- Resource: National Institute on Drug Abuse
- <https://www.drugabuse.gov/publications/marijuana-facts-parents-need-to-know/talking-to-your-kids-communicating-risks>

Marijuana is linked to lower grades, school failure, and poorer quality of life. Marijuana has negative effects on attention, motivation, memory, and learning that can persist after the drug's immediate effects wear off—especially in people who use it regularly.

Marijuana is linked to some mental illnesses.

High doses can bring on an acute psychosis (thinking that is detached from reality, sometimes including hallucinations) or panic attacks.

In people who already have schizophrenia (a severe mental disorder with symptoms such as hallucinations, paranoia, and disorganized thinking), marijuana use can worsen these symptoms.

Evidence suggests that early marijuana use may increase the risk of psychotic disorders among those at higher genetic risk for these disorders.

As a business owner or employee the importance of recognizing legitimate identification cannot be overstated. As noted previously, early use of drugs increases a person's chances of developing addiction. Remember, drugs change brains—and this can lead to addiction and other serious problems. So, preventing early use of drugs or alcohol may go a long way in reducing these risks. If we can prevent young people from experimenting with drugs, we can prevent drug addiction.

The effects of consumption of marijuana and marijuana products.

How to identify a person impaired by the consumption of marijuana

Commonly discussed chemicals in Marijuana

THC (delta-9-tetrahydrocannabinol) acts on specific brain cell receptors that ordinarily react to natural THC-like chemicals in the brain. These natural chemicals play a role in normal brain development and function.

CBD (cannabidiol) may not affect the mind or behavior like THC, although some users have reported negative effects of high CBD/low THC strains and products. It may be useful in reducing pain and inflammation, controlling epileptic seizures, and possibly even treating mental illness and addictions. Marijuana over-activates parts of the brain that contain the highest number of these receptors.

<https://www.drugabuse.gov/publications/drugfacts/marijuana>

The marijuana plant contains more than 500 other chemicals, including over 100 compounds that are chemically related to THC, called cannabinoids.

- Side effects vary from person to person, depending on quantity and strength of the marijuana.
- Marijuana also affects brain development.

For example, a study showed that people who started smoking marijuana heavily in their teens and had an ongoing cannabis use disorder lost an average of eight IQ points between ages 13 and 38. The lost mental abilities did not fully return in those who quit marijuana as adults.

- Those who started smoking marijuana as adults did not show notable IQ declines.

<https://www.drugabuse.gov/publications/drugfacts/marijuana>

Inhaling or ingesting Marijuana-know how long it takes the body to absorb the THC.

- Inhaling: When a person smokes marijuana, THC quickly passes from the lungs into the bloodstream. The blood carries the chemical to the brain and other organs throughout the body.
- Eating or digesting: The body absorbs THC more slowly when the person eats or drinks marijuana. In that case, the user generally feels the effects after 30 minutes to 1 hour

The effects of consumption:

1. Can cause Impaired coordination.
2. A person may experience difficulty in problem solving.
3. Marijuana consumption could cause short term memory loss.
4. People can experience anxiety and paranoia.
5. Some people experience hunger, referred to as the “munchies”.
6. Marijuana can cause sleepiness.

Resource: National Institute on Drug Abuse <https://www.drugabuse.gov/publications/drugfacts/marijuana>

Additional effects of consumption:

1. Altered senses (for example, seeing brighter colors).
2. Altered sense of time.
3. Changes in mood.
4. Impaired body movement.
5. Difficulty with thinking and problem-solving.

How to identify a person impaired by consumption:

5. Increase cravings for snacks.

Continued:

8. When marijuana is inhaled, THC and other chemicals in the plant pass from the lungs into the bloodstream, which rapidly carries them throughout the body and to the brain.
