3 AAC 306.730 is repealed and readopted to read:

3 AAC 306.730. Marijuana inventory tracking system. (a) A marijuana establishment shall use a marijuana inventory tracking system implemented by the board to identify and track all marijuana and marijuana product from either the seed or cutting until the marijuana or marijuana product is sold to a consumer at a retail marijuana store or is destroyed. In addition to general tracking, specific facilities shall track inventory as follows:

(1) a retail marijuana store shall use a marijuana inventory tracking system to identify and track all marijuana and marijuana product in its possession from the time the store receives, rejects, or revokes acceptance of a batch of marijuana or lot of marijuana product through the final sale, transfer to another licensed marijuana establishment, relocation to a new licensed premises approved by the board, or disposal;

(2) a marijuana cultivation facility shall

(A) use a marijuana inventory tracking system to identify and track all marijuana propagated, grown, or cultivated on its premises from the time the marijuana is propagated through transfer to another licensed marijuana establishment, including when marijuana or marijuana product is

(i) relocated to a new licensed premises approved by the board under a license transfer; or

(ii) destroyed;

(B) assign a tracking number to each plant that is mature or flowering;

(C) assign a tracking number to each package of marijuana to be transferred to another facility;

(D) assign a plant batch name or number to each batch of immature plants propagated from seed, clones or cuttings;

(E) assign a tag in accordance with the marijuana inventory tracking system;

(3) a marijuana product manufacturing facility shall use a marijuana inventory tracking system to identify and track any marijuana or marijuana product from the time of receipt, through

(A) use of the marijuana or marijuana product in manufacturing another marijuana product;

(B) sale or transfer of the marijuana or marijuana product originally received, or manufactured marijuana product to another licensed marijuana establishment;

(C) return of marijuana product from a licensed retail marijuana store or another marijuana product manufacturing facility that

(i) rejected a shipment of marijuana product; or

(ii) revoked acceptance of a shipment of marijuana product;

(D) disposal of any expired or outdated marijuana or marijuana product not sold or transferred; and

(E) relocation of marijuana or marijuana product to the new licensed premises approved by the board under a license transfer;

(4) a marijuana testing facility shall use a marijuana inventory tracking to identify and track all marijuana transported to its premises from the time of arrival to its use, destruction in testing, or disposal in compliance with 3 AAC 306.740. A marijuana testing facility shall also use its marijuana inventory tracking system, to track all marijuana or marijuana product transported to a new licensed premises approved by the board under a license transfer.

(b) A marijuana cultivation facility shall record each sale and transport of plants, seeds, or packages in its marijuana inventory tracking system, and shall generate a valid transport manifest to accompany the transported inventory.

(c) When manifested marijuana or marijuana product is delivered to the licensed premises of a licensed marijuana establishment, the receiving facility shall ensure the marijuana or marijuana product received are as described in the transport manifest and immediately adjust its records to reflect receipt of inventory. A marijuana facility shall reject any delivery of marijuana or a marijuana product that lacks a valid transport manifest generated by the originating marijuana establishment's inventory tracking system. A receiving licensee must document any differences between the quantity specified in the transport manifest and the quantity received within the inventory tracking system and in any relevant business records.

(d) A retail marijuana store shall reconcile each transaction from its point-of-sale system and current inventory with its marijuana inventory tracking system at the close of business each day. The store shall account for any variance between the quantity of marijuana or marijuana product received and the quantity sold, transferred, or disposed of.

(e) A marijuana product manufacturing facility shall track all received marijuana or marijuana product to its use in a manufactured product and shall reconcile each transaction within its inventory tracking system at the close of business each day. The facility shall account for any variance between the quantity of marijuana or marijuana product the facility received, and the quantity sold, transferred, or disposed of.

(f) If a licensee provides a sample to facilitate sales under 3 AAC 306.727, the providing facility shall record all sampled marijuana or marijuana product in its marijuana inventory tracking system all marijuana or marijuana product used to provide the sample, including;

- (1) the amount of each sample;
- (2) the identity of the employee, retail marijuana store, or marijuana product manufacturing facility that received the sample;
- (3) the disposal of an expired or outdated promotional sample returned to a marijuana cultivation facility; and
