Edibles, Concentrates & Topicals

What is the purpose of the approved product list?

The Alcohol Marijuana Control Office created the approved product list to assist the public in identifying the different types of marijuana products that are being produced and sold by licensed marijuana establishments in the State of Alaska.

Marijuana concentrate and product manufacturers are required to follow strict guidelines (statute and regulations) to ensure that the public is receiving approved products by the Marijuana Board.

Products made by marijuana concentrate and product manufacturers must follow 3 AAC 306.565. Packaging of marijuana products, before being sold to the public.

Example of a different type of packages.

- Top- Mylar Bag
- Bottom - clam shell
- Required to be child resistant.

In addition to packaging requirements, marijuana establishments must also follow labeling requirements as well.

3 AAC 306.570. Labeling of marijuana products.

CANNABINOID PROFILE:

Total THC: 80.82%	THC: 80.82%	TCHV: 0.38%	CBC: 1.10%
Total CBD: 3.06%	CBD: 3.06%	CBN: 0.69%	CBG: 1.58%

WARNING

Marijuana has intoxicating effects and may be habit forming and addictive. Marijuana impairs concentration, coordination, and judgment. Do not operate a vehicle or machinery under its influence. There are health risks associated with consumption of marijuana. For use only by adults twenty-one and older. Keep out of the reach of children. Marijuana should not be used by women who are pregnant or breast feeding.

Example of 3 AAC 306.750(c)(4) & (d)(1)

3 AAC 306.570 also requires that a marijuana product not be labeled as organic as well as each package of marijuana product sold to a retail marijuana store for resale to a consumer, a marijuana product manufacturing facility shall affix a label setting out,

- The name and license number of the marijuana product manufacturing facility where the marijuana product was prepared.
- The production lot number assigned to the product in the package.
- The net weight of the product in the package,
 - (A) not including weight of packaging; and
 - (B) using a standard of measure compatible with the marijuana product manufacturing facility's marijuana inventory tracking system.

The following products are displayed on the approved product list.

EDIBLES

"Edible and edible marijuana product means a marijuana product that is intended to be consumed orally, whether as food or drink. Does not include an adulterated food or drink product."

AAC 306.990 Definitions (16)(a)(b)

CONCENTRATES

"Concentrate or marijuana concentrate means resin, oil, wax, or any other substance produced by extracting or isolating cannabinoids, THC, or other components from a marijuana plant or from materials harvested from a marijuana plant." AAC 306.990 Definitions(11)

TOPICALS

A lotion or ointment that is applied directly to a part of the body. All topicals are made with some form of concentrates and will be featured on this list as a subcategory under concentrates.

Marijuana Concentrate

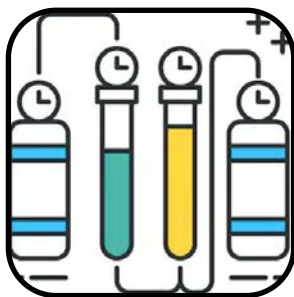

What are marijuana concentrates and how is it extracted?

A marijuana concentrate is a highly potent THC (Tetrahydrocannabinol) concentrated mass that is most similar in appearance to either honey or butter, which is why it is referred to or known on the street as "honey oil" or "budder."

Marijuana concentrate may be extracted using a number of methods, including water-based, food-based, or solvent-based methods.

Solvent-based extraction methods used to create cannabis concentrates include Butane Hash Oil (BHO) extraction, CO2 extraction and ethanol extraction to isolate cannabinoids and terpenoids.

Marijuana distillates are highly refined products, with potency that can approach 99 percent. All of these extracted products may come in the form of raw concentrates such as wax, shatter or crumble, or in oils.

Marijuana Product Manufacturers may create the following concentrates,

WATER-BASED CONCENTRATES.

Water-based concentrates are produced by extracting cannabinoids from marijuana by using only water, ice, or dry ice. 3 AAC 306.555 (1)

Example of shatter

FOOD-BASED CONCENTRATES

Food-based concentrates are produced by extracting cannabinoids from marijuana through the use of propylene glycol, glycerin, butter, olive oil, or other typical cooking fats, infused dairy butter, oils, or fats derived from natural sources may be used to prepare infused edible products. Infused dairy butter, oils, or fats may not be prepared as stand-alone edible products for sale. 3 AAC 306.555 (2)

SOLVENT-BASED CONCENTRATES

Solvent-based marijuana concentrate may be produced using the hydrocarbons N-butane, isobutane, propane, or heptane or other solvents or gases the board approves that exhibit low to minimal potential human health-related toxicity.

Approved solvents must be of at least 99 percent purity and must be used,

- in a professional grade closed-loop extraction system designed to recover the solvents;
- in an environment with proper ventilation, and
- with control of sources of ignition if a flammable atmosphere is or may be present.

3 AAC 306.555 (3)(a)(b)(c)

Example of rosin

Marijuana Product Manufacturers may also use heat, screens, presses, steam distillation, ice water, and other methods with out employing solvents or gasses to create,

- Kief
- Hashish
- Bubble Hass
- Infused dairy butter, oils, or fats derived from natural sources

Or

- Other extracts

3 AAC 306.555(d)

For purposes of clarity, the approved product list will show what is used during the extraction processed by the particular marijuana product or concentrate manufacturers.
