RURAL BULK FUEL MANAGER TRAINING CLASSES

Friday, January 4, 2019 (Anchorage) - the State of Alaska's Division of Community and Regional Affairs, in partnership with the Denali Commission, will offer two Rural Bulk Fuel Financial Management workshops in February and March.

The 16-hour workshops will focus on how to sustainably operate rural bulk fuel facilities, covering such topics as:

- budget and financial reporting
- rate setting
- collection strategies
- tracking inventory and fuel usage
- policies and procedures
- fuel financing

The February 19 & 20 class will focus on bulk fuel facilities with resale operations; the March 19 & 20 class will focus on electric utility bulk fuel farms and will include information on Power Cost Equalization (PCE) reporting and reimbursement. Scholarships may be available to help defray lodging and travel expenses.

For more information and application forms, contact: Brenda Hewitt, Local Government Specialist, (907) 269-5939 or brenda.hewitt@alaska.gov
